Blueprint

for Living

Men do not erect buildings without an architect's design; neither do Christian students build their lives upon fantasy. Though the waking hours of all youth are punctuated with daydreams of the perfect life, Catholic youth has a tangible someone upon whom it models its every moment.

That ideal God Himself foresaw, planned, and dreamed as a blueprint for living. He had her in His heart from all eternity—the Lady whom He calls "Mother."

Every person carries within his heart a blueprint of the one he loves. A tiny architect works inside the human heart drawing sketches of the ideal love from the people it sees, from the books it reads, from its hopes and day-dreams in the fond hope that the eye may one day see the ideal and the hand touch it. Life becomes satisfying the moment the dream is seen walking, and the person appears as the incarnation of all that one loved. The liking is instantaneous—because, actually, it was there waiting for a long time. Some go through life without ever meeting what they call their ideal. This could be very disappointing, if the ideal never really existed. But the absolute ideal of every heart does exist, and it is God. All human love is an initiation into the Eternal.

—Bishop Fulton J. Sheen

God's world!

Af-noon!

Since the day Father William Hammeke, pastor of St. Paul Parish purchased the Luden estate in 1939, the stately mansion has been transformed and expanded into a center of education of which Catholic youth in the Reading area are justly proud.

Its spacious rooms lent themselves graciously to conversion, bestowing the warmth of old world charm to the practical business of modern education.

Then Adam offered it to Eve.

Quitting time.

3 P. M. Watchful waiting.

...in majestic silence

Following the dictates of supply and demand the new school found itself, already in 1941, in need of more space and equipment. Both in that year and in 1945 new sections were added—resulting in sufficient facilities for approximately 750 pupils.

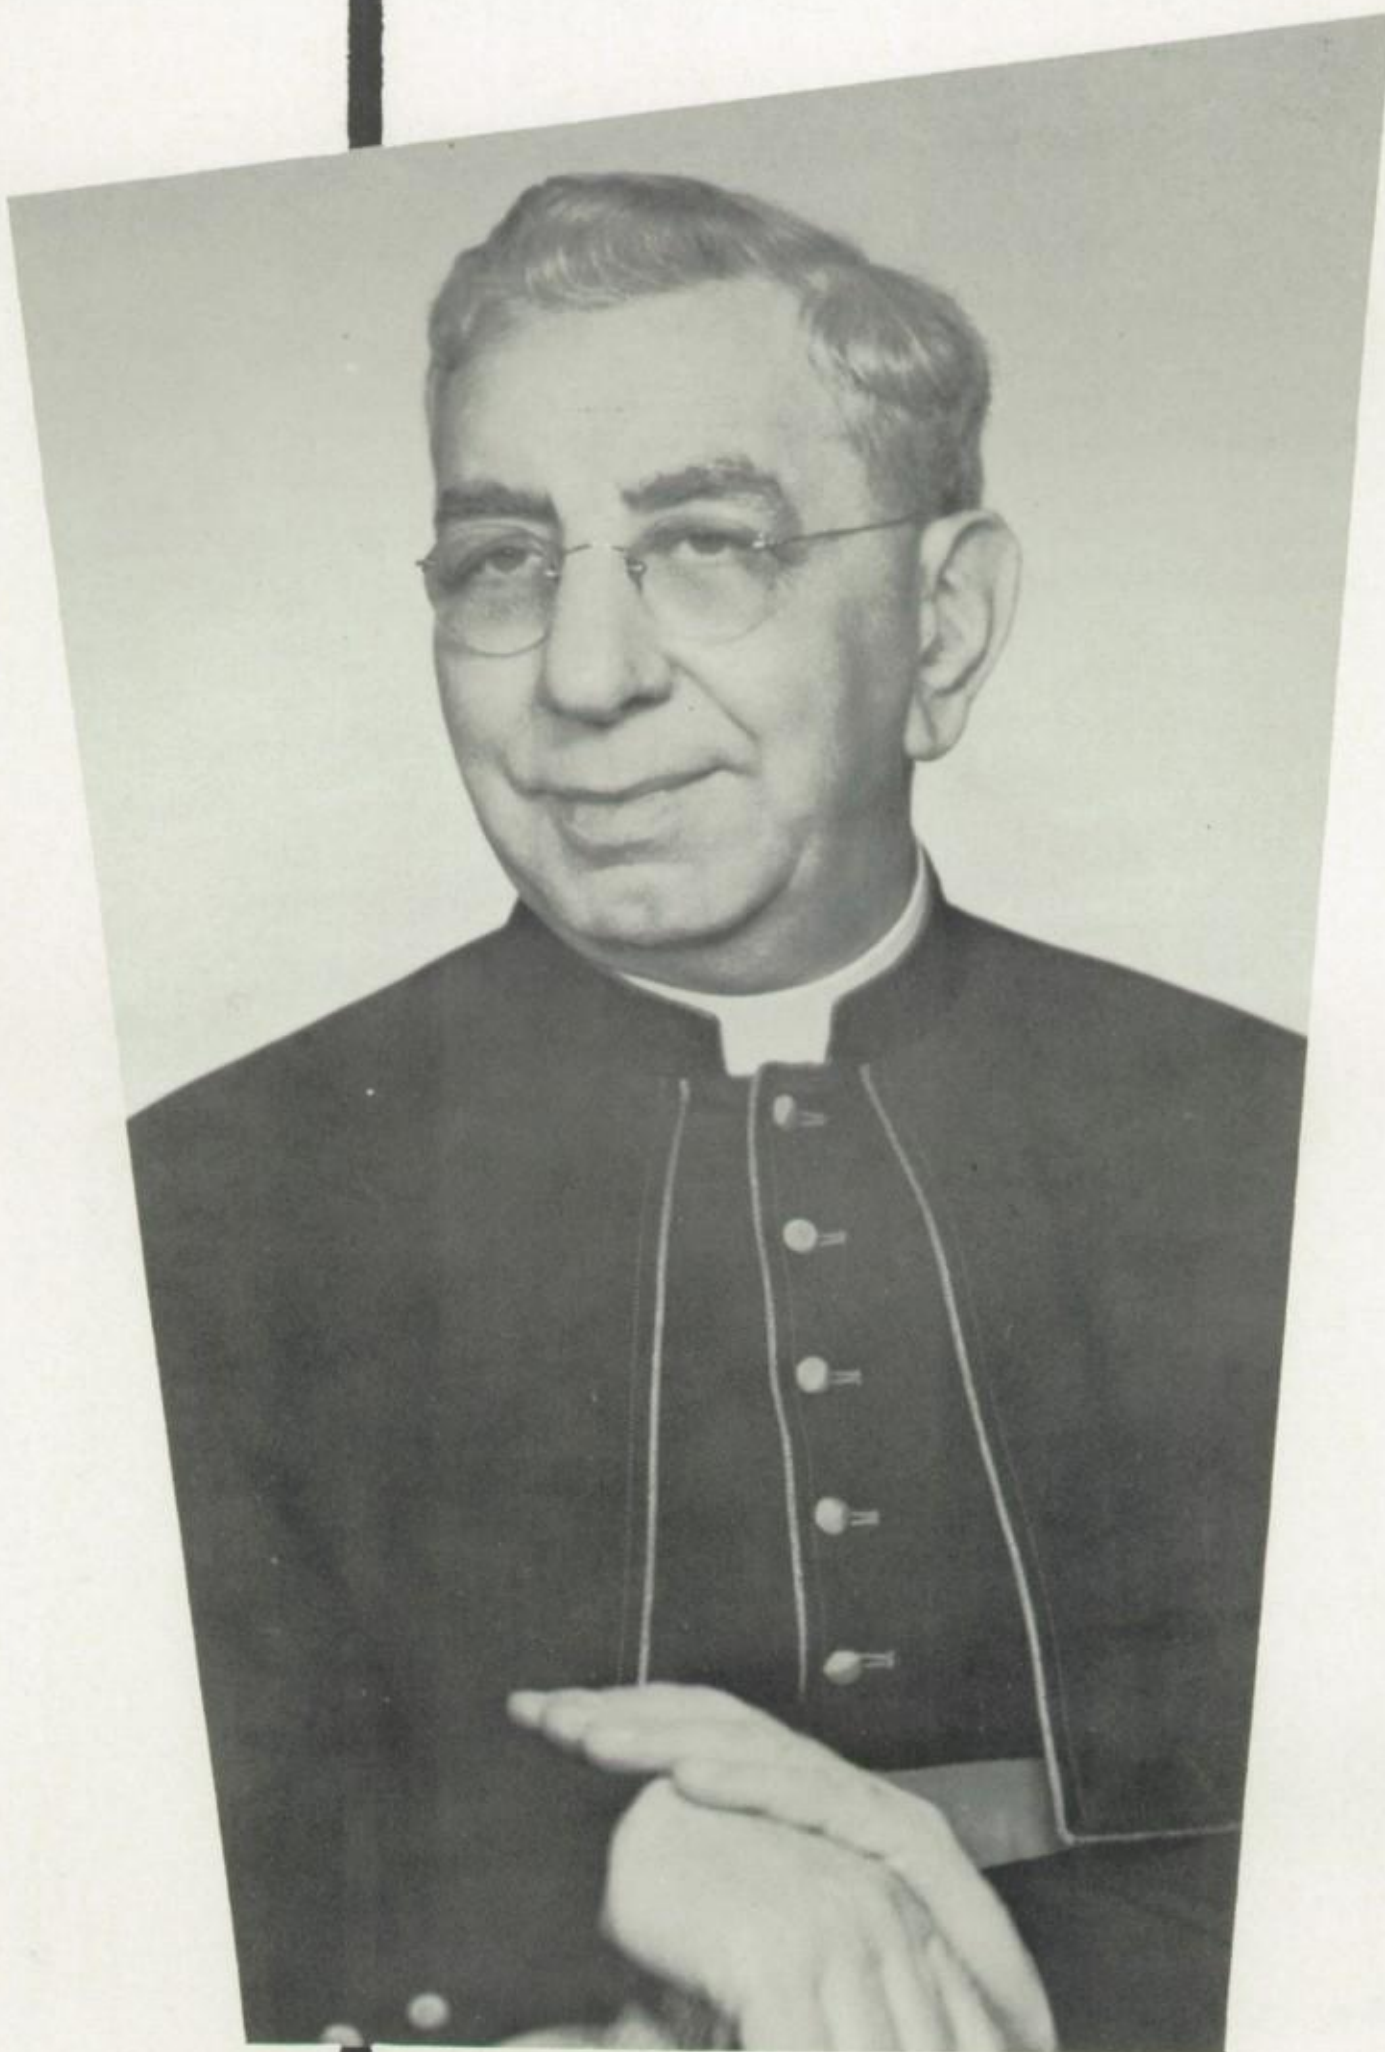

Green! Let's move, gang.

Under the dogwood!

As time rolled on, Central was once again pressed for space to accommodate the constantly increasing student body. September of the year 1955 found Centralites returning to an annex of three new rooms, the beginning of the new expansion program.

January of the year 1957 will witness the completion of another milestone in Central's history—a $500,000 addition, capable of providing 800 more students with the best and newest educational facilities, together with the privilege of a sound Catholic education.

While we busy ourselves digging foundations, rivoting steel, raising scaffolds, our late administrator enjoys the peace and happiness of the celestial mansion that the Great Architect prepared for him as a fitting reward for years well-lived.

On September 24, 1955, in the magenta robes of his priestly rank, Monsignor John N. Wachter crossed the threshold of his heavenly domain to enjoy the spiritual treasures he had amassed for himself through a saintly life of love and generosity.

His special place in the plan on which Centralites build their future, lies in his pointing the way to give. Strengthening our souls with the mortar of his virtue, we hope to hear with Francis Thompson:

"All which thy child's mistake
Fancies as lost, I have stored for thee at home:
Rise, clasp My hand, and come."

The Most Reverend

JOHN F. O'HARA, C. S. C., D. D.

Archbishop of Philadelphia

With a dedicated spirit, Archbishop O'Hara guides the destinies of his spiritual children along the path of Christ. Administrator of the archdiocesan school system, he is the dynamo which keeps the wheels of our great educational system turning.

His outstanding work in encouraging and supporting school building projects substantiates the fact that His Excellency realizes fully the importance of Catholic education.

MONSIGNOR EDWARD M. REILLY, J. C. D.,

The Right Reverend Monsignor Edward M. Reilly, a native of Pottsville, Pennsylvania, studied for the priesthood at St. Charles Seminary. Following his ordination in 1936, he attended graduate studies at the Catholic University of America, Washington, D. C. At the death of Monsignor John J. Bonner in November 1945, the gigantic task of supervising diocesan schools was given to Monsignor Reilly.

His tremendous interest in Catholic education, coupled with his gracious personality, has won for him the respect and admiration of both administrators and students in the Catholic school system of Philadelphia.

Reverend Henry J. Huesman

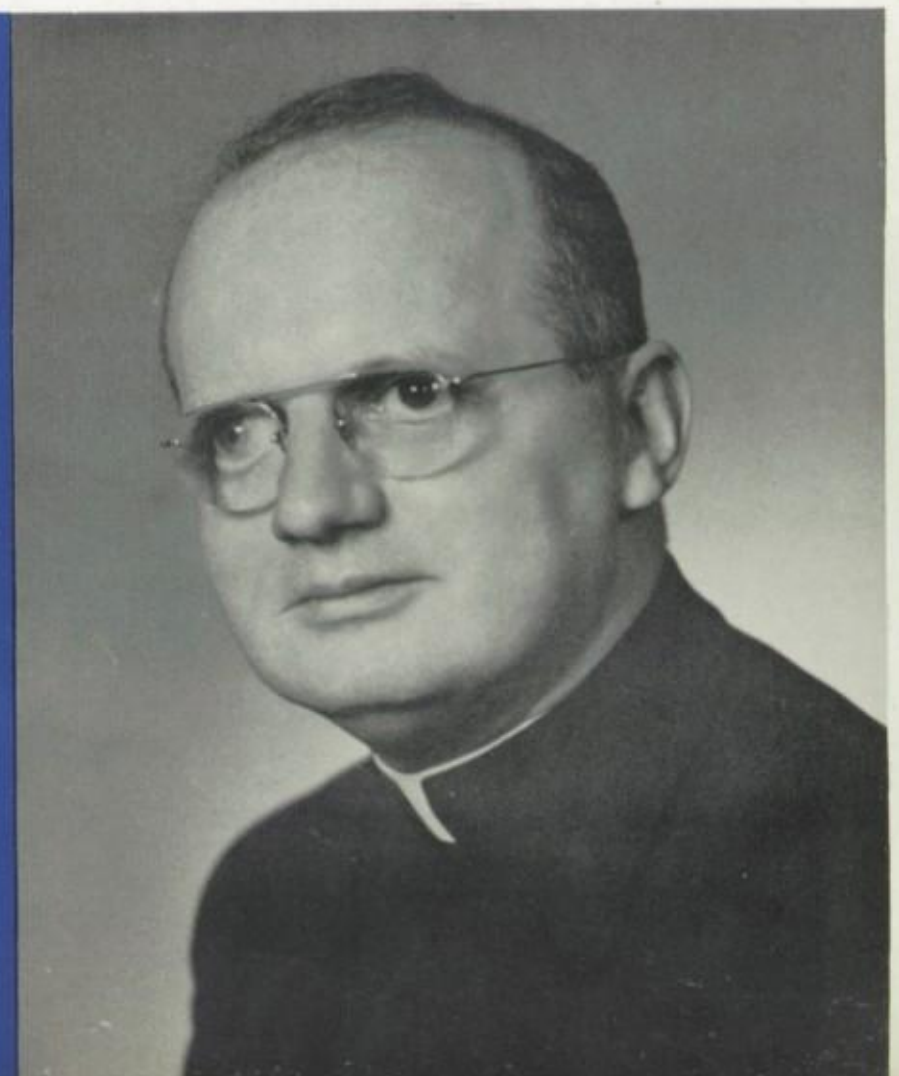

As long as Catholic education continues to flourish in the city of Reading, building projects must go on. And Father Huesman is the one to keep the engines rolling. His tremendous energy, keen intellect, and priestly zeal fit him snugly into the niche of pastor of St. Paul Parish and rector of Central Catholic High School.

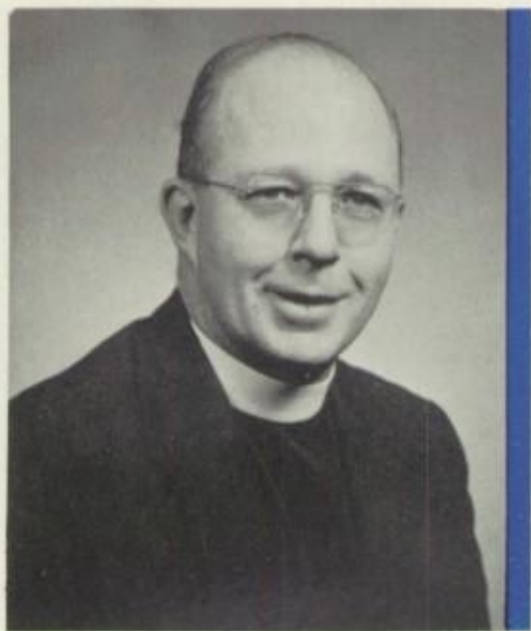

Father Huesman came to us in October after the death of Monsignor Wachter. Previous to his appointment here, he served as rector for two years at the Blessed Virgin Mary Parish in Catasauqua.

Reverend Raymond J. Leichner

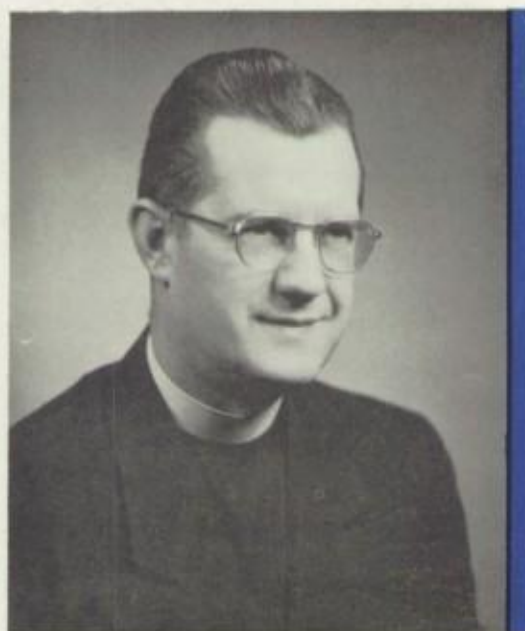

With the close of his third year as principal Father Leichner became blueprint conscious, and he grew even more line-design fervent during the '55-'56 cycle. Last summer Father transformed a negligible piece of lawn near the garage into three spacious classrooms, with "bigger an' better" entrances for the Test Tube and Treble Clef Departments.

This year the blue sheets crackle as he pours over plans for covering the old marching field across Eckert Avenue with more study areas. Thus far the empty lot is in the surveying stage, but with Father's verve the next few months will see things happening over there.

is a double duty

The Master Designer has two pictures of the soul of each of us; one of what we ought to be, the other of what we are. To reconcile the two, it is often necessary to soften the lights of the over-zealous or to brighten the shadows of the lethargic. Tear-drippings and smiles are part of the touching-up process.

The faculty at Central signed the contract with God to reproduce, with our help, God's image of us. The deadline is really a lifetime. In four brief years the teaching staff has completed the rough work; the rest is left to us.

Bang! Plop! Central's action builders unloaded sturdy, seasoned sport material in tumbles, thrills, and spills. Their tools—the swish of the net, thump of the pigskin, the crack of the bat, and the snap of the tape.

Not only victory and defeat, but also courage, enthusiasm, and willingness to work as a team served as measuring rods in the construction of physical achievement. Aglow with vitality, packed with muscle and brawn, Central athletes formed a solid masonry meeting each sport as a challenge to themselves and their Alma Mater.

Mid-August and football's first call brought Central's largest turnout in history. Hot weather and grueling practice molded these men of leisure into a hardened team. With high spirits and hard hitting the keynote, the coach had his crew ready and waiting for the first battle.

Work and sweat proved its worth as Central racked up a 6-2-1 record. The Cards ended the season with the upset of highly favored Allentown Central. This added a final page to the story of a team that not only desired to win, but tried to drive every opponent off the field.

Occasionally the Cards were outscored, but they were never outfought, proving again that when the going gets tough, the tough get going.

Central

Central completely overwhelmed York, starting the new season with a 32-7 victory on the Yorkmen's field. The Cards never gave York a chance as they jumped into a 25 point lead in the first half. Stunned by Central's early scores, the Fighting Irish tallied only once in the final minutes of the game.

Central

The Cards fly again, after a tough first quarter in which neither team could cross the goal line. Father Judge's defense gave way and Central scored swiftly and frequently. Bill Mayan, who racked up two touchdowns and two extra points, led the Cardinal's attack with 14 points. This was the first football victory for Central over a school from the Philadelphia Diocese.

Central

Scoring three times in the first five minutes of play, the Cards coasted on to their third successive victory. Bill Mayan showed the way with five six pointers and three conversions. T. D.'s were also scored by Danny Wisniewski, Joe Marino, Rich Gattone, and John Post. Excellent blocking as well as running was the key to Central's third victory.

Central

A fumble on the opening kickoff and a quick drive by Pottsville, and Central was behind for the first time this season. The spirited Cards smashed Pottsville's high hopes when Phil Wandzilak scored on the second play from scrimmage after his fine 40-yard kickoff return. Bill Mayan broke the tie by scoring again in the first quarter, and again in the third on a 51 yard run. Pottsville scored the final touchdown in the last quarter, but failed to knock the Cards off the "Glory Road" in a hard-fought 19-12 game.

Central

The Red Birds found themselves in trouble as St. Matt's scored early in the first quarter on a blocked punt. The Cards' offense hindered by fumbles and bad passes failed to click until the third quarter when John Post scored on a long aerial. Central again moved into scoring distance in the final quarter, but time ran out and the game ended in a 6-6 deadlock.

Harrisburg Catholic

Two touchdowns in the first minutes of the game put Central way behind a powerful Harrisburg. The Cards fought back harder than ever, forcing the Crusaders to fumble on bone-crushing tackles. Bill Mayan led Central' attack on an electrifying 85-yard touchdown sprint, but the Cards fell short, 20-14, in the hardest fought game of the season.

Central

Lancaster

A weary crew took to the field at Lancaster with only three days' rest after the Harrisburg encounter. Weakened further by the absence of their two starting halfbacks and three injured linemen, they fell victim to a high-spirited Lancaster team. Early scores again proved to be the Cards' downfall as the Crusaders overpowered them, 19-6.

Central

Allentown Central Catholic

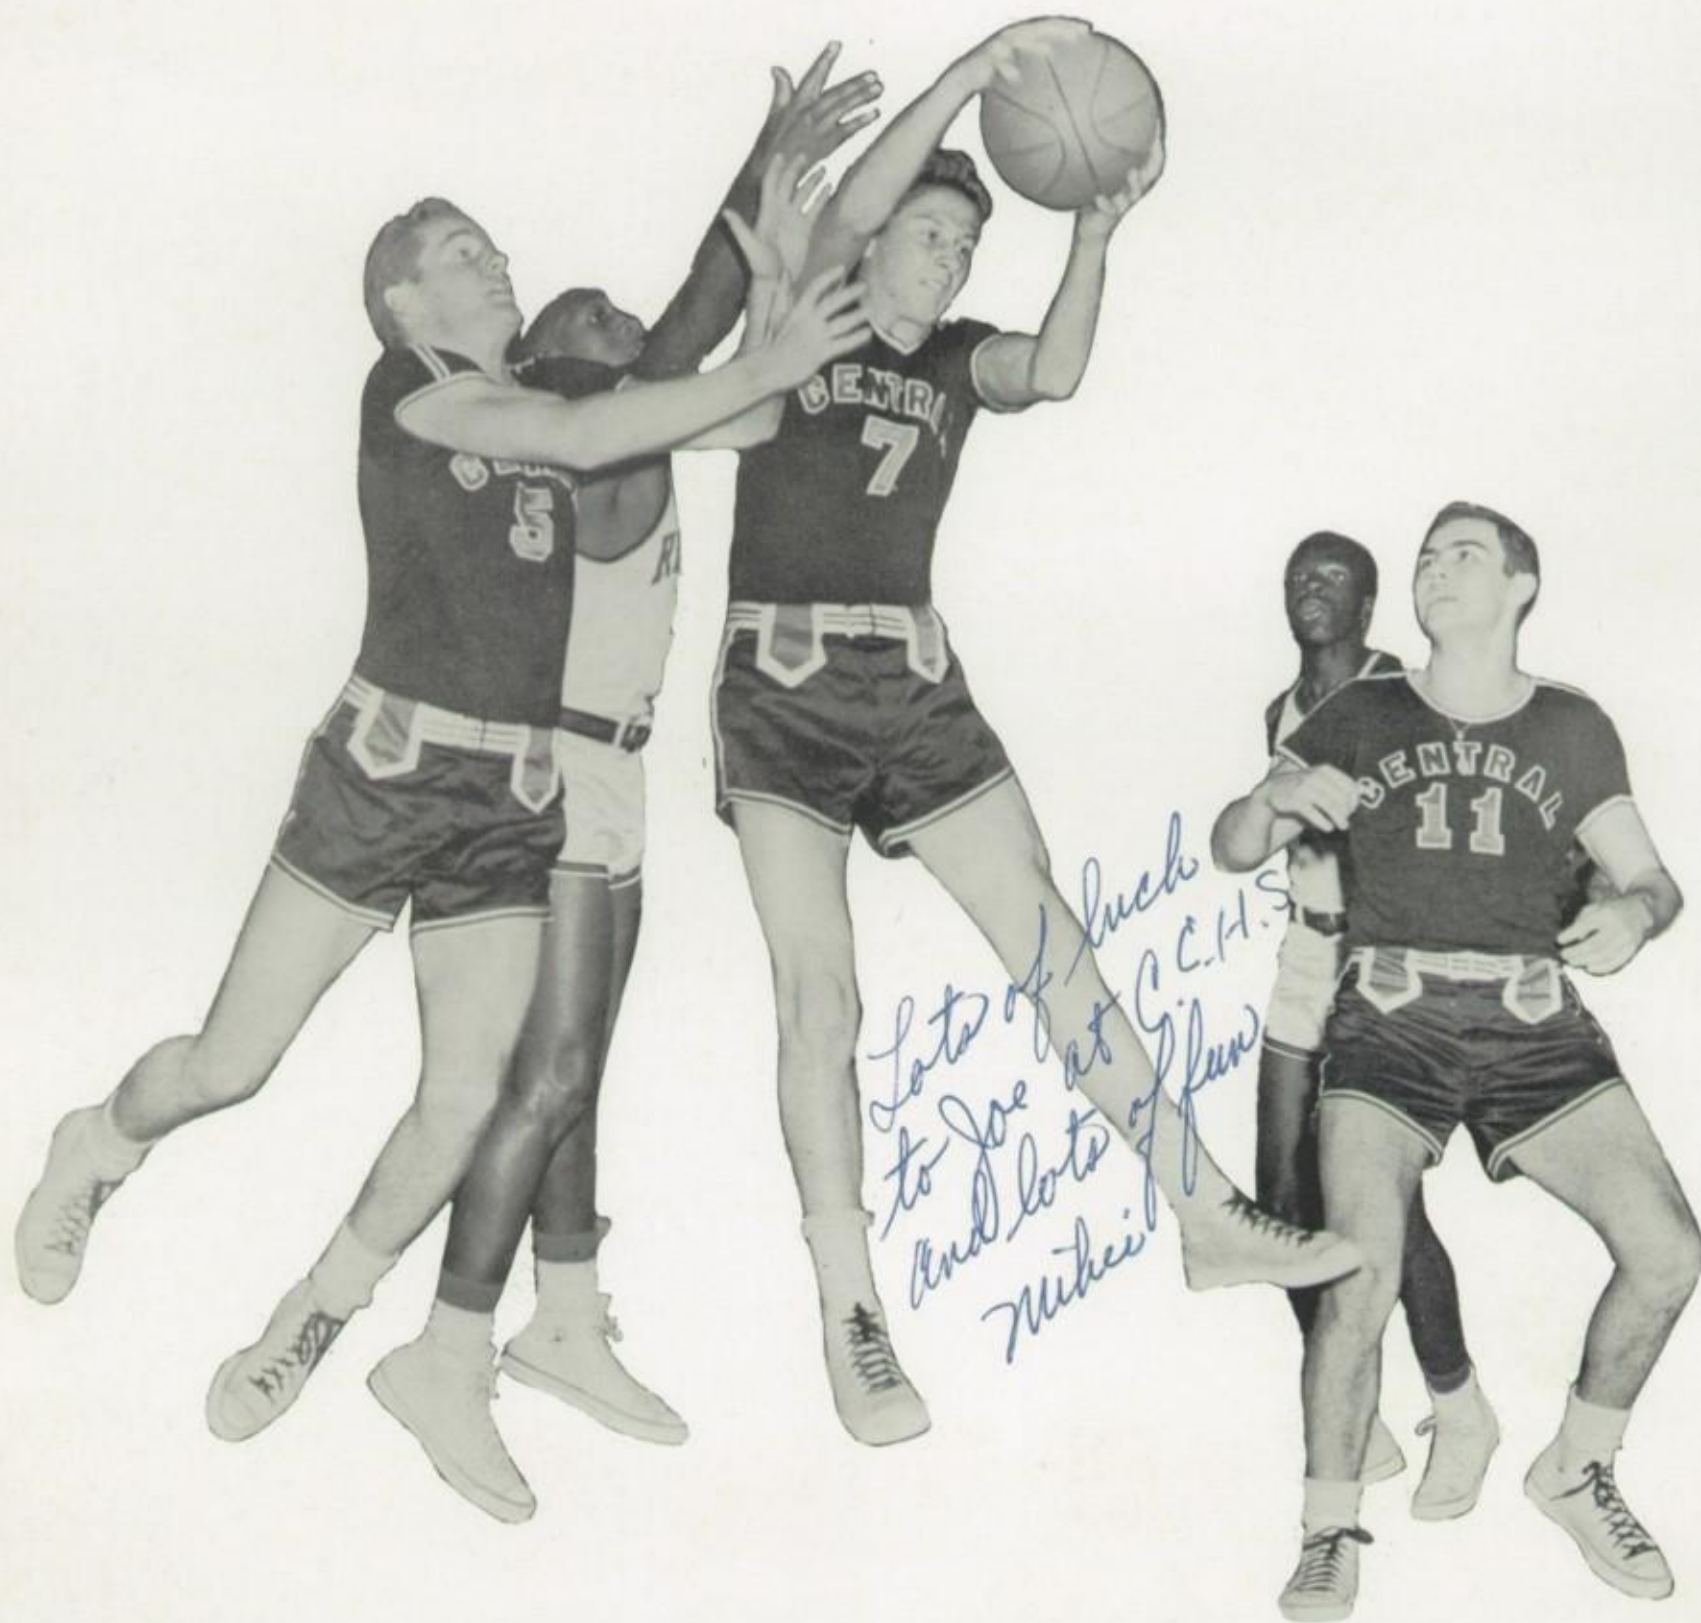

Central's hard fighting football team closed the '55 season with a victory over a highly favored Allentown Central. The tide of the battle was turned by the vicious tackles and aggressive blocking of the Cards' forward wall. Rich Gattone and Phil Wandzilak scored both the Cards' touchdowns in the first half. Allentown managed to sneak over a touchdown on a long pass in the final moments of the game.

Central

Bishop Kenrick

Bouncing back after losing two straight, the Cards powered their way to a 13-0 win over Bishop Kenrick, formerly St. Patrick's. Led by quarterback Roger Meyers and the fancy running of halfback Phil Wandzilak, the Red Birds handed in their fifth win of the season. Wandzilak scored both T. D.'s.

Birds of a feather flock together. Central's Dave Adams, Mike Yachnik, and Fred Lenich.

Lack of experience and height made the future look dim for the Cards as they opened their new season with many strong opponents eyeing them as weak prey.

But the fearless five made the enemy think twice when they met on the court. The Cards' aggressive straight shooting attack sometimes fell short of their opponents' scoring but the battle was seldom an easy one, and caused many an opposing coach to gain a few more gray hairs.

Hopes rose sharply as the Redbirds knocked off a favored Shenandoah Catholic in the first round of the PCIAA playoffs. But these visions were short-lived when Allentown Central trounced the Cards in the final game of the season.

Central 38

York 58

Lacking experience and height, the Cards dropped their opener to York, 58 to 38. Paul Abeln and Mike Yachnik led the way for the Cards, scoring 11 and 10 points respectively.

Central 34

Coatesville 56

A strong Coatesville outfit, seeking revenge for last year's defeat, handed Central their second loss. Paul Abeln paced Central in their losing cause with 24 points.

Central 46

Lebanon 45

Fighting an uphill battle all the way, the Cardinals managed to win their first game of the new season over the Cedars of Lebanon. Fred Lenich cinched the game with a layup only five seconds before the final buzzer.

Central 44

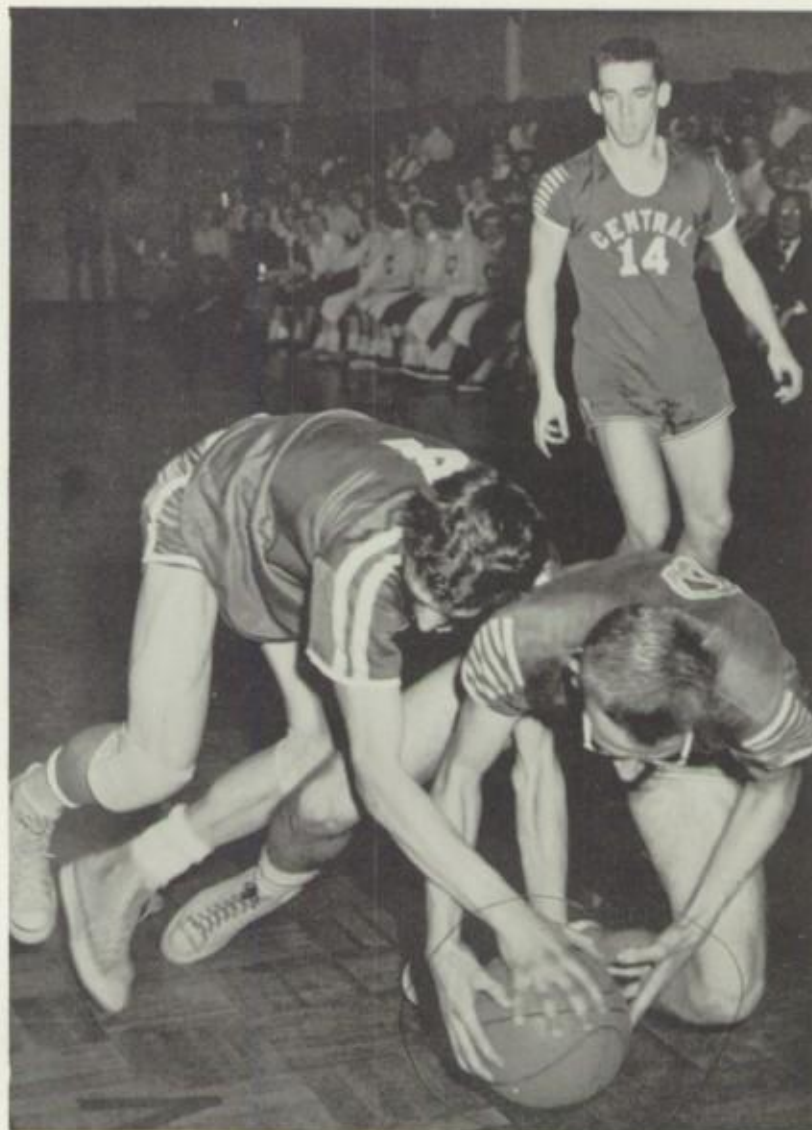

Bishop Neuman 48

The Cards' brilliant fourth quarter rally failed to overcome the boys from Southeast Catholic, and Central dropped their third game in four outings. Paul Abeln, Central's most consistent point-getter, topped the Cards with 17 counters.

Central 35

Mount Penn 43

The Mountaineers registered a surprising victory over the favored Cards in their annual benefit game. A tight second-half defense helped Mount Penn to overcome Central's 21-16 halftime lead. The Mounts outscored Central in the third and fourth quarters, handing the Cards their fourth defeat.

Central 56

Bethlehem 70

Central, battling hard against a powerful Bethlehem Public, gave its best showing of the year. The Cards' big gun, Paul Abeln, with 32 points helped keep the Redbirds as close as 45-42 late in the third period, but the Hurricanes had too much power and pulled ahead in the final period.

Central 34

Reading 72

Reading High posted its fourth straight win in the annual inter-city classic swamping the Cards, 72-34. The only Cardinal who consistently broke through Reading High's ironclad defense was Fred Lenich who connected for 18 points.

Central 47

Birdsboro 41

Snapping a three game losing streak the Cards experienced their third win of the season at the expense of Birdsboro. It was a nip and tuck battle all the way with Central holding a halftime edge of 33-30. Paul Abeln recuperating from the Reading High tussle, showed the way with 24 counters.

Central 63

Bethlehem Catholic 86

Fighting for a much needed victory, Central held the Golden Hawks to a 30-all stalemate late in the second quarter. A six point outburst started Central's fading to their ninth loss, despite Paul Abeln's tabbing 39 points.

Central 63

Bishop Kenrick 48

Paul Abeln dropped 35 points as underdog Central snapped a five-game Bishop Kenrick winning streak; it was the Cards' fourth victory in 13 starts. Central jumped to a 16-6 first period advantage and managed to keep a substantial lead the entire game, overcoming the Norristown Five, 63-48.

Central 55

West Catholic 80

The Burrs registered their seventh consecutive victory over Joe Schaaf's Quintet. Paced by Paul Abeln's sharp-shooting, the Cards held West to a 28-21 advantage, but the Burrs exploded for 30 points in the third quarter and walloped Central, 80 to 55.

Central 55

Lancaster Catholic 47

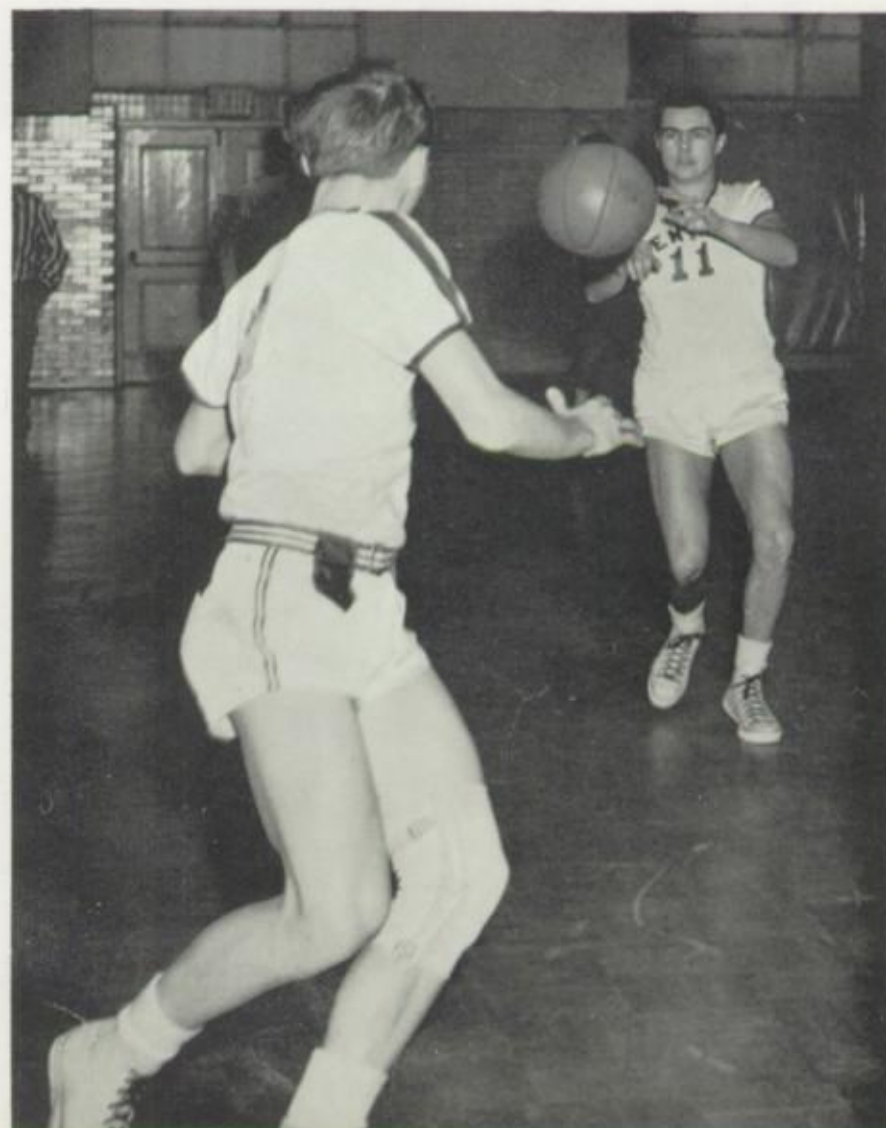

Fred Lenich and Paul Abeln poured in 33 points to pace Central to a 55-47 win over Lancaster. The win snapped a three game losing streak of the Cards and brought their record to 2-5 for the season.

Central 48

Kutztown 70

Central traveled to Kutztown to absorb their sixth defeat in eight starts. The Cougars opened up with a ripping attack, jumping to a 20-10 first period lead. Ron Druckenmiller delivered 25 points for Kutztown while Paul Abeln and Mike Yachnik had 12 each for the Cardinals.

Fred Lenich's accurate passing sets up Paul Abeln for an easy two points.

Central 66 Catholic Interracial Center 62

Accuracy from the foul line aided Central in overcoming the Catholic Interracial Center. Fred Lenich, who converted three foul tosses in the waning seconds of the benefit struggle, was the key figure in choking C. I. C.'s last rally. Dick Asberry drilled home 31 points to take the scoring honors for C. I. C. On the other side, Bill Mayan, Paul Abeln, Fred Lenich, and Dave Adams all hit double numbers.

Central 53

Easton 60

The Red Rovers ran into more trouble than they expected when the Cards chopped a 31-19 halftime gap to a 57-51 lead in the final minutes, but a costly personal foul stalled Central's attack and Easton went on to win, 60-53. Paul Abeln and Bill Mayan collaborated for 38 points.

Central 47

Harrisburg 82

Powerful Harrisburg romped over Central, 82-47, at Harrisburg for its 20th win against one defeat. Six-foot-five Bekelja pumped in 26 points for the winners, and Paul Abeln with 16 was closely followed by Mayan and Lenich who tabbed 12 each for the losers. Harrisburg had 40 field goals and only two free throws in an amazing foul-free skirmish.

High-flying Willie Mayan maneuvers past West's lanky guard.

Central 61

St. Matthew's 50

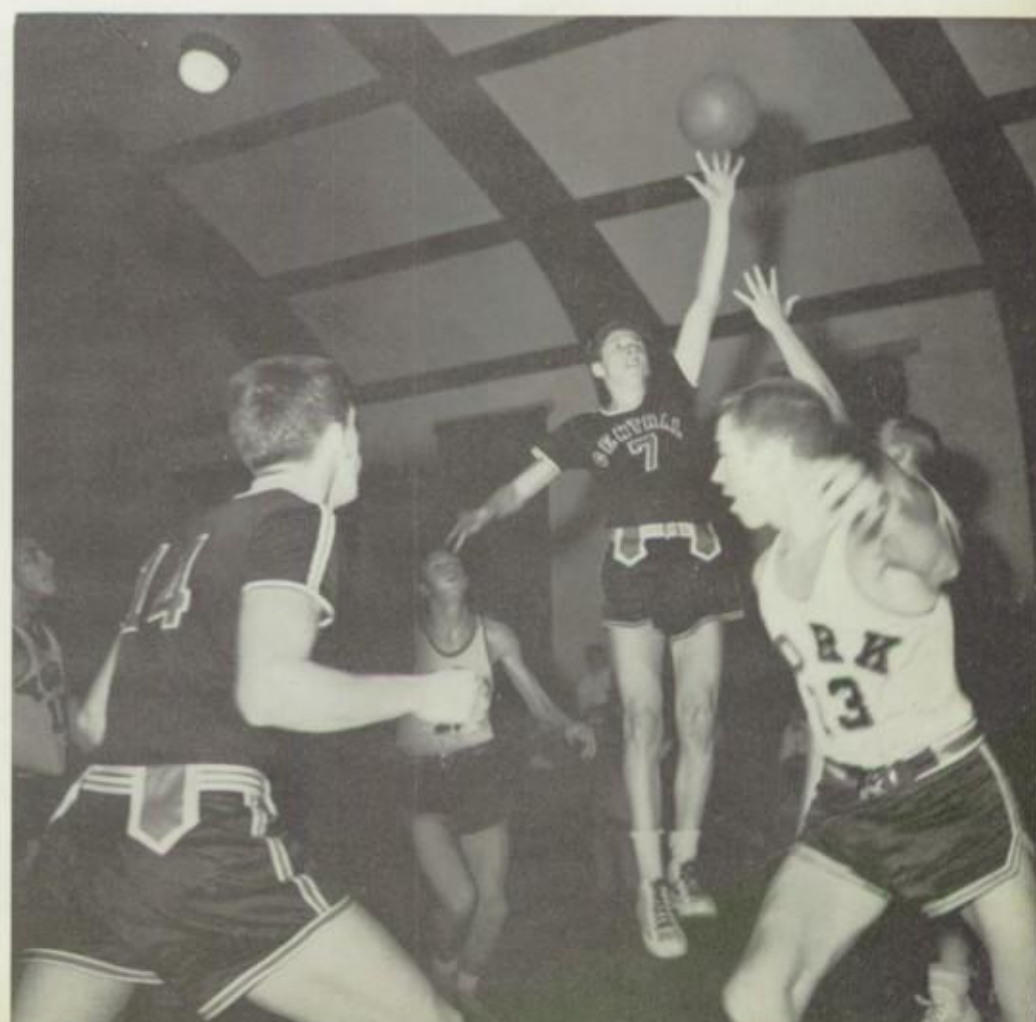

After a shaky time in the opening minutes, the Redbirds reeled off six straight points and went on to lead, 13-11, at the end of the first chapter. The Cards took advantage of this early sharpshooting and brought home their sixth victory after losing three straight. Abeln, Adams, and Lenich all posted double numbers.

Central 56

York Catholic 66

Shubert and Nagle with 22 points apiece led the Yorkmen to their second victory of the season over the Cardinals. Central led only once in the game when sharpshooter Paul Abeln tossed in three consecutive field goals to earn a 51-50 lead, but the Fighting Irish came back with two quick field goals and insured themselves victory.

Soaring Redbird Mike Yachnik lets fly for another two points against York Catholic.

Central 61Allentown 94

Central, obviously outclassed, took a 94-61 thrashing from Allentown High at the Little Palestra in Allentown. It was the 18th straight win for the unbeaten Canaries. Big Bob Heffner neutralized Paul Abeln's effort with 26 points to take scoring honors.

Central 52Perkiomen' 33

After a tardy start, the Cards put on the speed to trounce the Prepsters, 52-33. Coach Schaaf's boys made it the seventh victory of the season out of a total of 21 games. Paul Abeln and Bill Mayan led the Birds with a total of 42 counters.

Central 38Lancaster 36

Lancaster Catholic bowed for the second time to the Cardinals, 38-36. The Hill Roaders had to overcome scores of 7-5, 18-16, 30-29 to insure them their eighth victory. Bill Mayan and Paul Abeln combined for 27 points.

Central 51

Harrisburg Catholic 76

The Crusaders, sporting a 14 and 1 record, racked up another victory at the expense of the Cards. Mickey Bekelja showed the way for the visitors with 23 points. Paul Abeln started the Cards out on the right foot with a 3-0 lead and collected 21 points for the night.

Central 47

St. Matthews 38

Coming from behind in the final three minutes, the Red-birds knocked off St. Matt's for their ninth win of the season. Paul Abeln in usual style banged in 24 points to pace the Cards. Central took the lead, 12-8, after the first eight minutes, but fell behind by halftime. The Cards finally regained the lead at the third quarter, 39-21.

Central 28

Bishop Kenrick 30

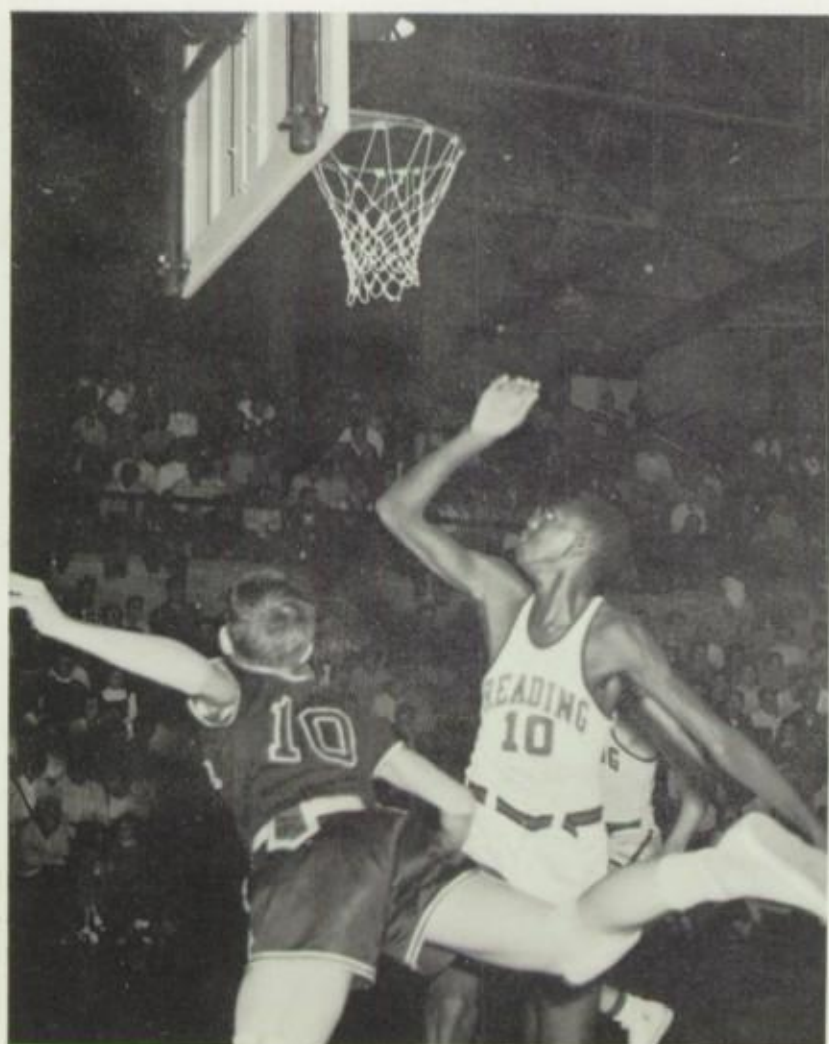

The Cards, employing a freeze for the first time during the season, failed to stop Bishop Kenrick's persistent offense. Central led, 19-18, going into the fourth quarter and sped up their attack, jumping into a 26-22 lead. They failed to hold on to it, dropping their 15th in 24 outings.

Central 78

Perkiomen Prep 52

Central finished its regular season with a smashing 78-52 victory over the Prepsters. Paul Abeln was the whole show in the game, collecting 20 field goals and 13 fouls thereby erasing Mike DePaul's record of 47, set against Perkiomen Prep in 1950.

Paul Abeln, midget marksman, set a new single game scoring record of 53 points against Perkiomen Prep.

Central 57

Shenandoah 48

Paced by Paul Abeln, Central survived the first round of PCIAA playoffs by trouncing Shenandoah Catholic, 57-48. It was anybody's ball game for the first two periods, but early in the third quarter, the Cards broke a 28-28 tie and went on to win without any further trouble.

Central 38

Allentown 98

The Vikings of Allentown Central Catholic had matters all their own in the second round of PCIAA playoffs, as they blasted the Cards by 60 points. The Vikings never gave Coach Joey Schaaf's boys a chance, building up a 20-6 edge in the first period.

*Away Games

VARSITY—First Row: A. Sayek, J. Murphy, R. Rick, S. Styer, M. Pfrommer, E. Devine, L. Spencer. Second Row: A. Stengel, L. Kroener, A. Lenich, Miss Virginia Illuzzi, coach, J. Yahner, V. Voelker, J. Manzollilo.

Stretching the limit,
Mary Pfrommer nabs a long pass.

Miss Illuzzi's Cardinalettes ended their log in the black this year with 12 wins and 1 loss. Thus they completed one of the most successful girls' basketball seasons in Central's history.

Totaling 711 counters against their opponents' 442, the team averaged 54.7 digits per game, a new school record. Sue Styer established an individual record with an average of 24.4 per game, compiling 293 tabs for the season.

Boosting their reputation as forwards were R. Rick, S. Styer, and J. Murphy. M. Pfrommer, A. Sayek, and L. Spencer played the defensive, with E. Devine holding at various times either guard or forward positions.

The Jay Vees sported a perfect record, winning the three games played.

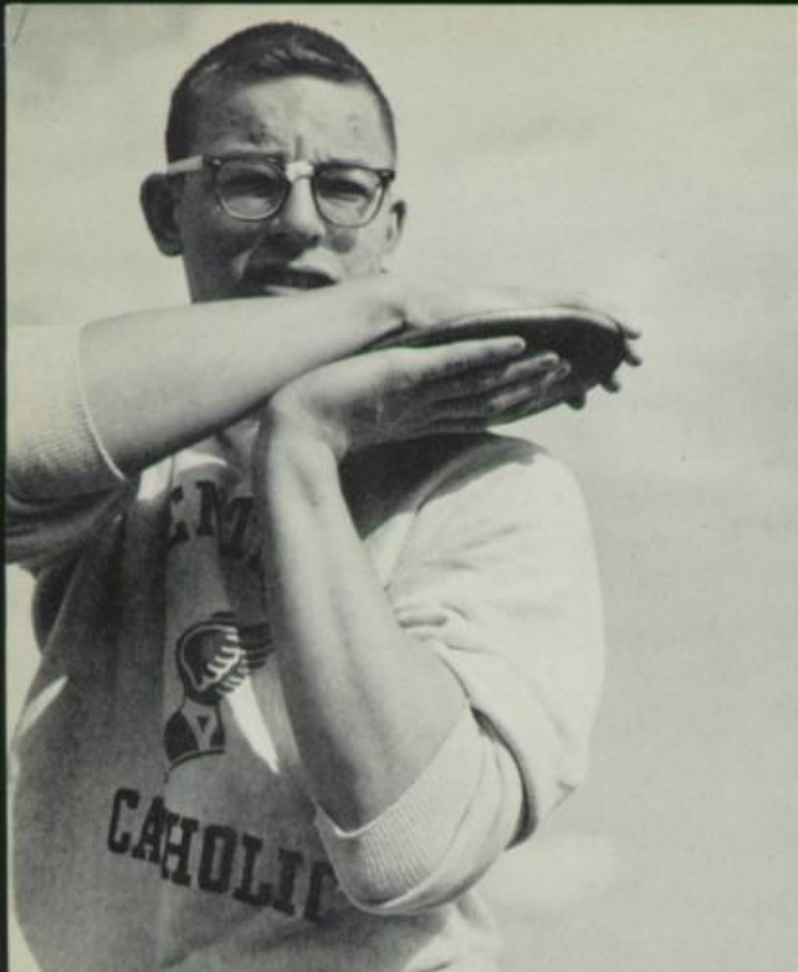

With a hook shot, Rosie Rick fakes out defensive St. Matthew's player.

Court Queens

JAY VEES—First Row: J. Carrigan, E. Dolan, J. Sheetz, J. Echel. Second Row: M. Urso, M. E. O'Brien, D. Horrigan, Miss Virginia Illuzzi, coach, C. High, S. DiFulvio, J. Winterhalter.

Preparing to set his mark, husky R. Salinger winds up to launch the discus.

The flying foursome. J. Mulligan, T. Tucker, J. Brenner, and L. Curtin warm up for the Penn Relays.

First Row: Mgr. R. Kogut, R. Salinger, R. Boone, J. Post, Coach Dr. J. Mulligan, D. Adams, W. Kelly, G. Kowal, and Mgr. J. Nierle. Second Row: R. Madara, J. Dolan, R. DeSantis, D. Wisniewski, L. Raab, J. Fritz, J. Mulligan, L. Curtin, and J. Brenner. Third Row: K. Hoefling, A. Sallett, J. Marino, W. Hartgen, J. Carabello, R. Deakin, C. Turnbull, B. Napiecek, and R. Tranovich. Fourth Row: J. Shirk, J. Doyle, B. Hoefling, W. Garvie, L. Heizmann, J. Purcell, L. Ganster, W. Blekicki, and D. Lineaweaver.

He flies through the air with the greatest of ease. R. Boone shows off for the Centralma photographer.

Gun Smoke

Central opened the track season with Doc Muligan taking over as head track coach for his 16th year. Strength in most of the field events is compensating for the Redbirds' lack of speed on the track and the future looks bright.

The Cards, state champions for the last three years in a row in their own class, hope to defend their title with success again this year. Strong favorites in the State Meet are John Post in pole vault and Dave Adams in the javelin. Both took a first place in last year's PCIAA classic. Bob Salinger, who placed second in discus is also a sure bet to capture a place again this year.

J. Post does it again!

Heaving the javelin for another first place, D. Adams prepares to spear his prey in the tropics of St. Lawrence.

First Row: T. Twardowski, J. Mancuso, E. Alfiero, P. Rotundo, M. Yachnik, A. Pawlewicz, and B. Faust. Second Row: Mgr. F. Kerber, H. Sharpley, W. Kuhns, P. Wandzilak, P. Abeln, J. Elia, G. Prentice, S. Sauer, Coach J. McLaughlin.

Rounding second after hitting a booming triple, B. Kuhns passes E. Alfiero who waits to cut off the throw from deep right field.

Determined to give one a real ride, E. Alfiero readies himself for the pitch as J. Mancuso awaits the consequences.

Diamond Cutters

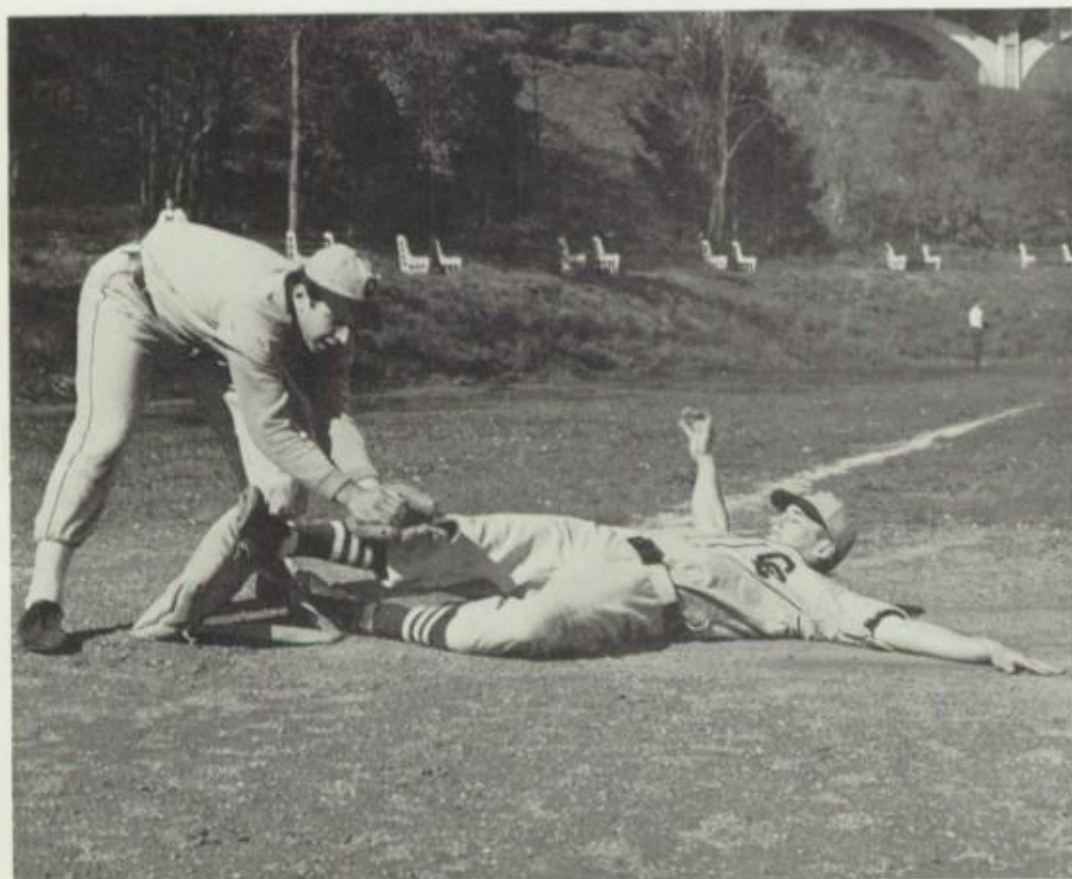

As the cry "Play ball" is heard all over the country, Central is in there rooting. The key to this year's team lies in Coach McLaughlin's pitching staff and the big bat of Bill Kuhns. Both Paul Abeln and Mike Yachnik seem to be holding their own against opposing batters, leading the team to a 4 and 2 record early in the season.

Thus far, the Cards lost only to Valley Forge and Allentown Central. We are looking forward to clear sailing after impressive wins over Perkiomen Prep, Bishop Kenrick, and St. Pius of Pottstown.

Central's triple threat in the outfield—B. Kuhns, G. Prentice and S. Sauer—show some fancy glove work.

P. Wandzilak slides neatly under the glove of J. Elia during a pre-game warm-up.

The man in the iron mask—Catcher J. Mancuso.

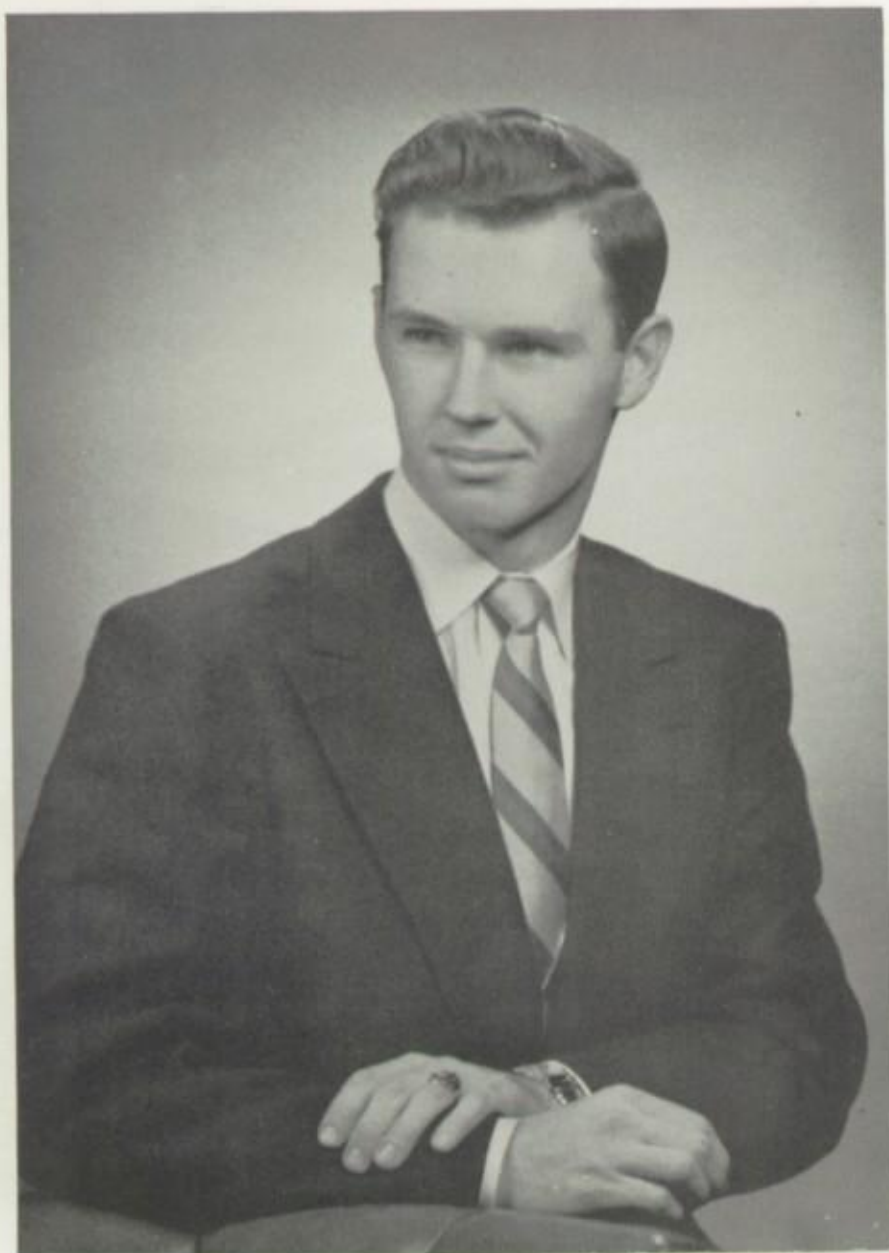

Powerhouse

Central's powerhouse really generated prestige this year. Lights blazed in varied colors when the Forensic Union won five trophies and three entries to the Grand Tournament at Pittsburgh. There were a shower of minor sparks, too, in diocesan contests.

Keeping pace with the growth of the year, our publications brought honors as Hillside Echoes captured prize after prize. Now Centralma is contemplating additional power through winning the coveted All-American.

The Student Council operating consistently throughout the years with increased voltage hit a new high this year with its special First Annual Courtesy Drive.

Senate for 'em

Stealing a cue from the sports section we might print about our council members that "all for Central stood up and hollered."

First full-scale project on the agenda was the initiation of the Courtesy Drive, followed by the Italian sandwich mission, tainted with the homely smell of onions, peppers, and tomatoes.

Popular music jazzed out of the gym one fine night, and students realized that another "big five" scheme had gone through. Record dances had been the talk for a long time.

In line with archdiocesan efforts to further vocations, the student government encouraged attendance at the Vocation Holy Hour and pleaded for extra prayers and good works for that purpose.

Respected by brawniest senior and flimsiest freshman, the student senate was at the forum to do or die, always diplomatic, of course, to its fingertips.

P. Miller finds an amusing entry as she reads the minutes of the previous meeting to senior representatives S. Bonk, D. Soderlund, W. Kelly, G. Hull, and E. Allgoever.

Views

Confucius say: "Children should be seen and not heard."
Centralma say: "Such is not the case for yearbooks."
 Result: The 1956 "talking page" annual.

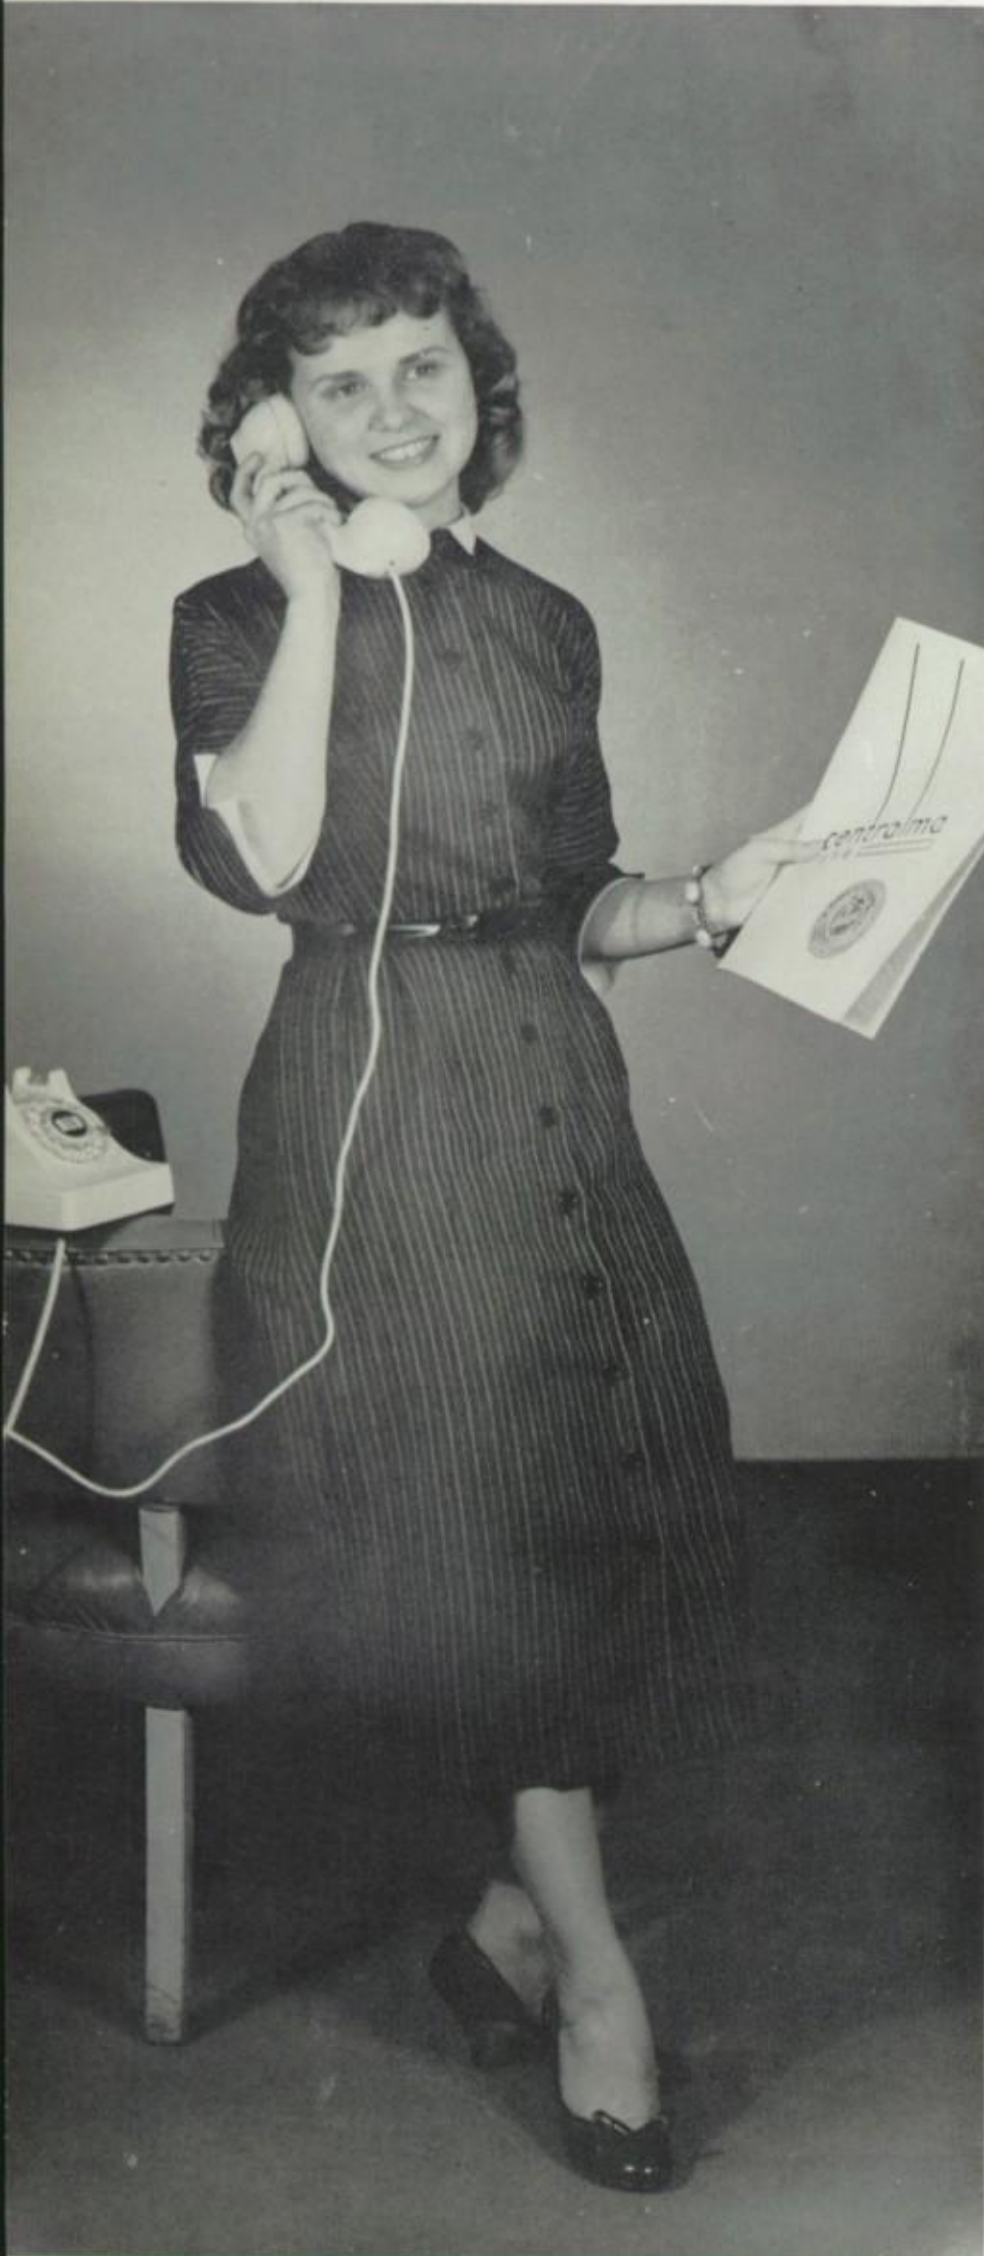

From the moment we received the letter from the California record company, things began to happen in 22½. Wheels started turning in Patty Miller's brain; Jim Hudson wrote away for more info; Maddie Horrigan was promptly dubbed Record Editor.

What happened after that is too confusing to tell, but word leaked out and the student body gradually caught the "record bug." Publicity wise, Centralma helped spread the epidemic by sending to the homerooms good-will ambassadors Mary Hannahoe and Maureen Finan to spin samples of the finished product . . .

But why speak of it? It speaks for itself, which, in our opinion (and, we hope, yours too), is pretty good.

... and News

Rounding out a year in which they received the All-American, All-Catholic, Medalist, "A" awards, and first prize in the Georgian Court Contest, six members of the Hillside Echoes staff took part in the Temple Press Tournament at Philadelphia on April 26.

Journalists accompanied by Sister M. Rene, acting Secretary on the Advisor's round table, "Juvenile Journalists," were Annetta Pfeifer, Ann Marie Martin, Elaine Allgoever, Michael O'Pake, Jeannette Janiszewski, and Ann Hofmann, who took part in the various contests. After the tournament, the students toured the campus and lunched at the college cafeteria. They tied the bow on the day's activities by attending the journalism clinic conducted in Mitten, Carnell, and Conwell Halls.

 Drum Majorette

Aaat — ten — TION! M. Cleary, A. Martin, C. Nawa, R. Pauluk, C. Garvie, M. Anderson and G. Knight, Central's colorguard, snap to a speedy halt before the Allentown Catholic game.

Forward, march! A blair of music, and Central's marching band turned out again in full force wearing their traditional maroon and gold uniforms. The Majorettes' new outfits added an extra crispness to the fall football air, and twirling batons sparkled with a bright lustre in the autumn sun.

Not only did the fancy steppers lend a pleasant "half-time" by striking music and occasional designs on the green turf at football time, but also displayed verve and toodle-dee-doo's at the Annual Holy Name and Christmas Parades.

Candid camera shot pays off! Nu Nu and the cheerleaders T. Raven, R. Young, J. Beard, M. Horrigan, B. Elzer, K. Didyoung, J. Litwin, and M. Prendergast are smug with success.

Adding lustre to a successful season are Central's majorettes P. Boyer, M. Drexler, A. Martin, S. Burkhart, B. Grube, M. Nawa, C. Lis, and K. Meiran under the capable supervision of majorette captain K. Lesher.

Rhythm in Red

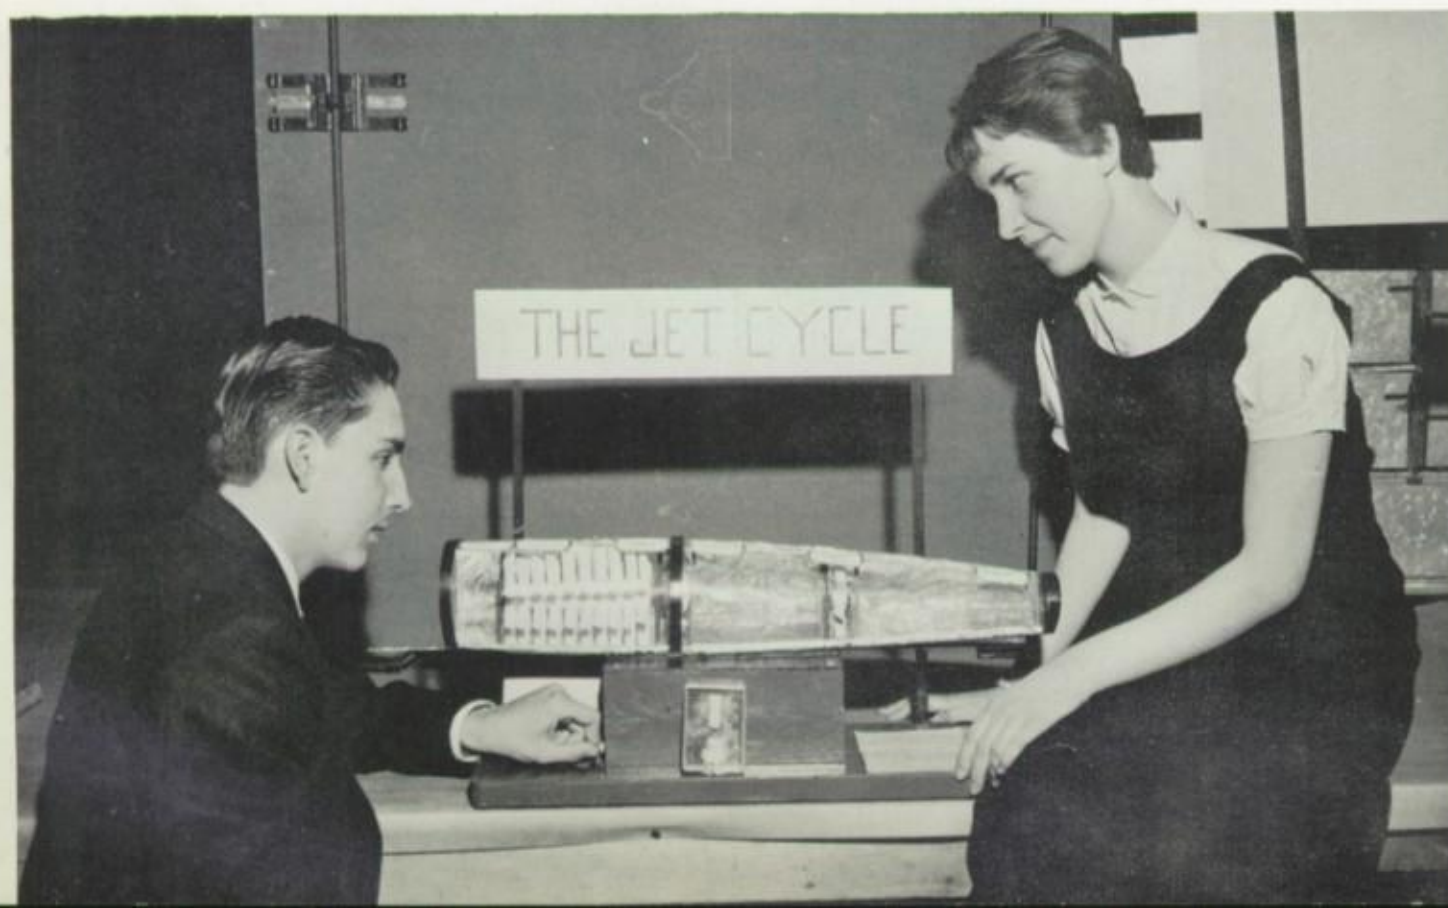

Forming a snappy contrast with the green turf are the white bucks and maroon uniforms of Central's marching band.

Sister Joseph Marie congratulates her student John Braun, who won the Grand Prize for his hydroelectric generator.

H. Snyder, winner of a bronze medal, demonstrates his scale model of a jet cycle for L. Twardowski.

Winner's Circle

Chickenwire, paint, plaster of Paris, electric motors, and adhesive tape. With these scraps 107 Centralites worked their projects for the Fourth Annual Science Fair. Students ingenuity and hard work surprised their teachers and sometimes, even themselves. When all intellectual blood was spilt, the young scientists displayed their wares at the Albright College Physical Education Building, April 13 and 14.

Labor and inspiration paid dividends. Centralites copped five first places and a raft of second and third prizes, and honorable mentions. Whipped cream was added when John Braun, a Junior, won the Grand Prize trophy and medal with his working model of a hydro-electric plant. Altogether 40 Centralites walked away with some token of victory.

The Science Fair was sponsored by the Reading Chemists' Club. Judges for the affair were Mr. Charles Adams, Dr. Cyrus Beekey, Mr. George Bierman, Mr. George Bollman, Dr. C. T. Chu, Mr. William Davies, Mr. W. F. Drehs, Mr. W. Geib, Mr. Edward Jackson, Mr. V. L. Jones, Mr. Henry Kaweck, Mr. George Luerssen, Mr. George Meyers, Jr., Mr. Stewart Moyer, Mr. Matthew Peacock, Dr. Earl Poole, Dr. Carl Post, Mr. Donald Rees, Mr. Paul Robbins, Mr. Ethan Smith, Jr., Mr. Harold Smith, Mr. Glenwood Stoudt, Mr. James Stoudt, Mr. William Wiswesser.

A silver medal was awarded to G. Seiders for his project on the various types of trees that grow in Berks County.

All smiles after winning first prize for their system of crystalline structure are P. Wentzel, B. Sychterz, and J. Norman. The experiment appeared in the chemistry division.

First group prize in conservation for their exhibit on soil erosion went to J. Nemeth, C. Pennypacker, and P. Pennypacker.

Copping first place in the applied science division are B. Hannahoe, M. Hannahoe, and M. Spahn. These winners displayed a miniature representation of a sewage disposal plant.

Gay as a gypsy and free as a bird is C. Gatski as she gracefully glides across the floor to her own arrangement of Brahms' Hungarian Dances.

Foreign Policy

"Lustig ist das Zigeunerleben!" "Deutsch" scholars carried out the merry gypsy life theme in Central's First Annual German Assembly. Greeted by narrator Mary Pfrommer, the audience of seniors and juniors responded with enthusiasm.

The program opened with the rousing "Erlkoenig," a tale of the race of a boy and his father—Gregory Seiders and Eugene Hracho—with Death, played by white-robed Elaine Allgoever. Another skit, "Wilhelm Tell," featured George Hoffman in the title role outwitting villainous Michael O'Pake.

German II gypsies staged an impromptu picnic starring Fraulein Carol Gatski with her lively tambourine dance. Comedy highlight of the assembly was Stanley Ciesielski's portrayal of Dr. Eisenbart, a legendary quack physician. Famous Bavarian poems by the first year students and a hearty chorus of "Guten Abend" concluded the program.

Under the direction of Sister M. Agnita and Sister M. Rosa, this year's production merited praises ranging from "best ever" to "sehr gut."

As rustles of spring are heard in Germany, J. Dolan, A. Gross, J. Hudson, E. Babb, and B. Hannahoe expressively recite Froelingslied.

Although glasses may not be the best cure for a broken leg, Dr. Eisenbart, S. Ciesielski, provided light entertainment in his mixed-up diagnoses of E. Salvatore, R. Delp and W. Kuhns.

Portraying Wilhelm Tell, George Hoffman endeavors to prove his ability in archery. He acts out a scene from the play of the same name.

Adding a serious note to the assembly the King of the Elves, E. Allgoever, lays the icy hand of death upon G. Seiders, thwarting G. Hracho's attempt to reach home with the sick child.

P. Anderson from Lebanon Catholic High School, winner of the Monsignor Wachter Memorial Oratorical Contest, receives the first place trophy from Father Lechner while Father Schulte, moderator of the tournament, and Father Hilbret of Lebanon Catholic look on.

John Braun probes into the personal life of Pope Pius XII. M. O'Pake has the honor of representing His Holiness.

Double Feature

Victorious smiles wreath the faces of the finalists: V. Borselino, who placed second; M. Boland and J. Braun, who tied for fourth, J. Harbaugh, third; J. Dolan, fifth; P. Andrews, grand prize winner, and R. Cielinski, third.

Emcee-ing the program in observance of the Holy Father's 80th birthday is T. Prendergast. M. O'Pake, J. Braun, T. Twardowski, J. Gyomber, G. Seiders and L. Nave were members of the cast.

Workshop

A steady rat-tat-tat hummed and droned throughout the months. Centralites were building their future with accuracy and solidity. Hammering in knowledge was a chore that produced gratifying results.

It meant sweat and tears to grind out lessons, grapple with problems day after day. But these exercises sharpened dull brains. Academic students dug deep for correct formulas, scrubbed test tubes, and carved away at slipping corpses.

Commercial students ran, neck and neck toward stenography and typing awards. Delectable odors floated up from the Home Economics kitchen. And through it all the school "corps elite" tacked up honor cards.

White baton poised . . .

Father Zolondek gave the signal and silence filled the gym. Magically the wand brought forth blare of trumpet and beat of drum. Then celestial discord! Freshmen rendered their arias "I'm Gettin' Nuttin' for Christmas."

Once more the 'first years' took on their class responsibility and presented a jaunty jargon of song. Roaring upper-classmen looked on and recalled a similar day when they, too, sang with frogs in their throats and thumps in their hearts.

Freshmen

Star gazing is a thing of the past. Today J. Conway spots saucers for General Science Class. Engineers R. Rank and J. Miller check calculations. Astronomy is studied with a view to acquiring a broader and richer outlook on life. Science teaches the student that there is something beyond man and his seemingly all-important problems. That something or Someone is God.

"And here is the River Jordan," says W. Bleckicki as he traces the journey of Our Lord from Galilee to Judea for B. Lutostanski and D. Stufflet.

Decoding rosters was the major problem those first few days in September. Sister Roselda, Prefect of Studies, had made the pink puzzle sheet as a result of information extracted from us on registration days June 15, 16, and 17. The Henmon Nelson test also helped to determine the schedule for the year.

We worked. But the silver lining appeared when Father announced dancing classes for Wednesday evenings. Mrs. Kitzmiller, in an effort to show Frosh the way to social adjustment, taught the fundamental steps to rock n' roll. Stumbling here and there, we finally managed to perform the intricate footwork and the Mothers' Club rewarded us with a Christmas party all our own.

FRESHMAN 3—Bottom Row: J. Krupa, E. Myatt, B. Muhlenberg, M. Loughlin, M. Mazurkiewicz, M. Latze, C. Marko, J. Milloni, C. Lindinger, S. Malecki, M. O'Brien, N. Landis, A. Malone. Middle Row: A. Ben Gunn, classic figure in Treasure Island, observes courtesy by rewarding freshmen pirates with treasure. Caught with the goods are M. Stankiewicz, R. Chelius, J. Borst, B. Conlon, J. Miller.

Projected . . .

on the movie screen were R. L. Stevenson's Treasure Island and Mark Twain's Huckleberry Finn. Both forty-five minute films reviewed stories on the required reading list. They were educational and incidentally provided fun.

The Society of the Propagation of the Faith also came through with The Eternal Priest and The Great Heart, short films on ordination and the life of Father Damien.

Claiming the largest class in Central's history, Sophomores boast of more representatives than any other class in social, scholastic, and athletic activities—four girls on the cheerleading squad, four varsity sharpshooters, and a top number of "wise fools" meriting honor cards.

The class also had its number of orators who travelled to Camden, New Jersey, to participate in a public speaking tournament for second year students.

sponsors a competitive examination annually. All students, some 27,000 in the United States and in several neighboring countries, even in Ireland, are eligible. This examination is placed on the approved list of high school contests and activities by the National Association of Secondary School Principals.

Students who score 115 points are eligible for a medal pin and certificate. Certificates are also awarded to those who score 90 or over. We were awarded two medal pins and should we win another this year, the school will receive a trophy.

Following a proposed blueprint Junior contractors M. Saloka, J. Harris, W. Wirth, J. Cooney, and J. Brenner construct a scale model annex.

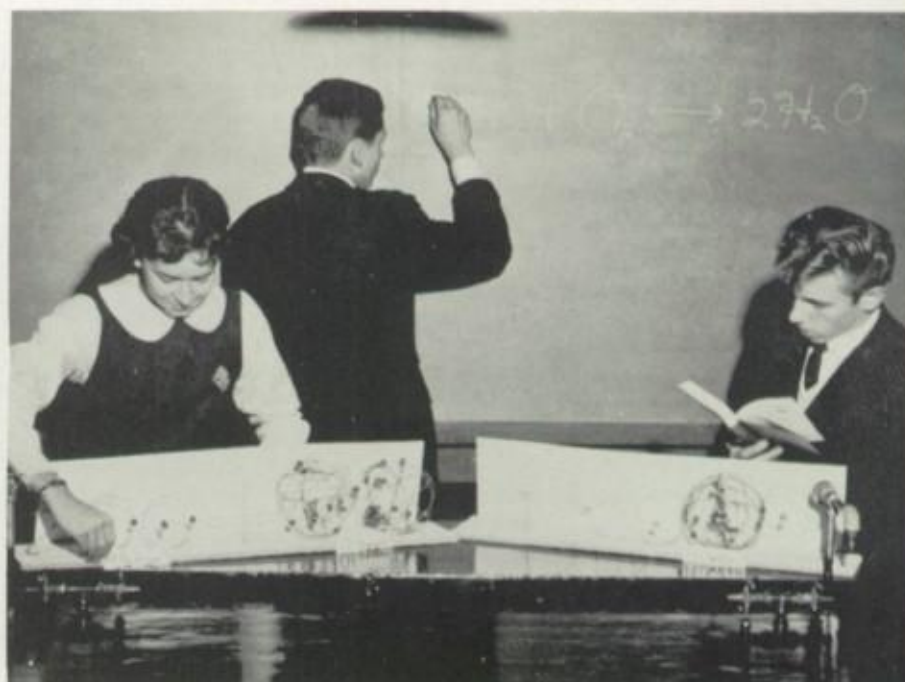

The students learn how to read blueprints to prepare for such occupations as surveying, excavating, masonry, carpentry, electricity and ornamental metal working. In this photo boys observe that the strength of walls and rigidity of a building depend to a great extent on the proper placing and bracing of studs.

Seniors

Former members of mud biscuit industry R. Gattone, M. Stefanik, R. Kretzman,
R. Sockel have worthwhile experience for preparing ceramics for bisque firing.

Stand, Wilhelm Tell! R. Boone aims steady bow at target on R. Delp's head. M. Pfrommer, C. Pentz, and S. Ciesielski stand by waiting for the kill.

was introduced for the first time this year. It is a new educative process which aims to develop communications skills and techniques of the commercial student.

It includes a demonstration and practice set, consisting of a pair of activated telephones with loudspeaker, ringing and busy signals, that permits the entire class to participate in various calls.

Goodbye, St. Anthony! Efficient filing methods do away with all hectic hunting. Senior business students are F. Jablonski, J. Conway, P. Boyer, M. Cleary, and A. Krauss.

It's not just the principle of the thing. Senior physicists M. Drexler, S. Bonk, J. Gyomber, F. Wolf, and J. Janiszewski conclude that besides Archimede's Principle, accuracy is essential.

Coke-tail Lounge

Pour a soupcon of humor into a tall glass of music and gaiety, add a generous supply of laughter and stir with the mixing stick of zestful work. Result—Central Special on ice all year round.

Assemblies and the dungaree hop took care of the humor angle while dreamy prom melodies provided a musical background. The gym echoed with laughter on Greenie Day and gaiety with a chic touch governed the Fashion Show.

More than ripple and wave of effort went into the Spring Musical but all agreed it was well worth the exertion.

And the fifteen girls comprising the May Court added that finishing touch to our formula.

Posing for you just after their big moment are Queen A. Gross and King J. Braun with last year's royalty L. Lachina and T. Prendergast.

"You'll be stepping in Stardust." The publicity committee's slogan proved true to couples who danced under a blue mesh heaven to the "Starlight Serenade."

The fallen decorations behind Billy LeVan's Orchestra were forgotten amid the rustle of evening gowns and the chatter over specialty numbers.

Pressed corsages, dance cards, and "Stardust" will cause the Class of '57 to remember the Berkshire Hotel, January 21, 1956 and their silver and blue Junior Prom.

Stuff of which dreams are made.

Starlight Serenade

"When you wish upon a star . . ." J. Russo does the wishing and J. Braun finds the hitch to it.

Twilight music of Billy LeVan's orchestra provides an evening of enchantment.

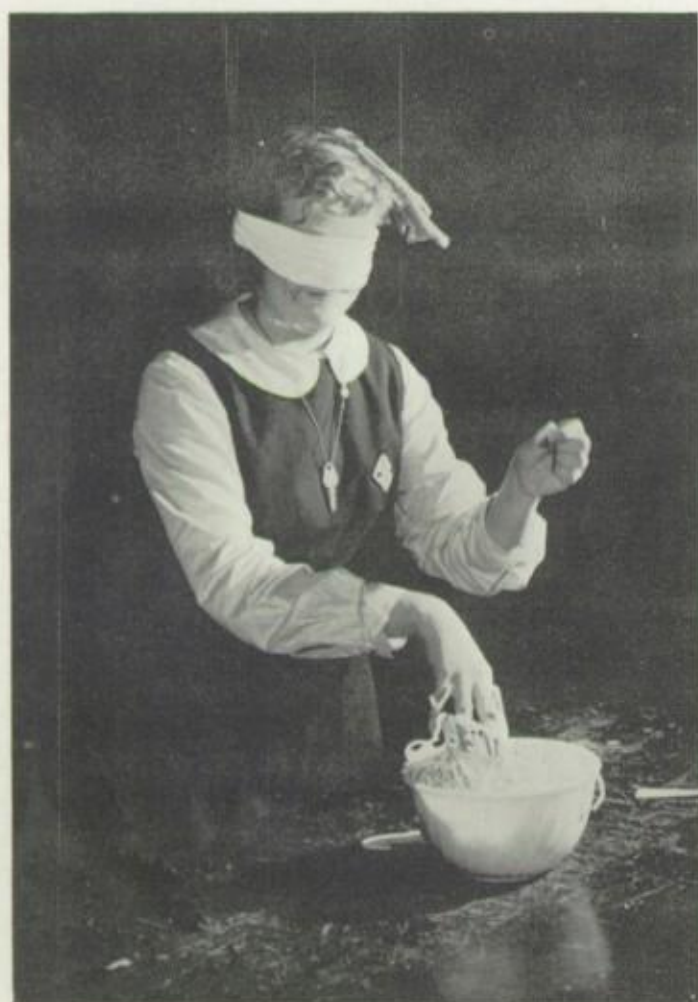

Eyeing the results of a job well-done are co-chairmen A. M. Gross and J. Braun. Seated with them are committee leaders J. Dolan, B. Hannahoe, and M. O'Pake.

It's coke and smoke time for Father Schulte, Father Fricker, and Dr. Stoebeneau, chaperons for our Starlight Serenade.

E. Kuhn, boy cheerleader, awaits the signal of M. Boland to raise the plaudits of Central's basketball team.

Worms or spaghetti? Freshman Felicia Kompa dips into goo as she searches for the fifty-cent piece.

Lowly freshmen are taught by "King Greenie" the proper method of bowing to mighty noble seniors.

Though not formally approved by Emily Post these breakfast manners will do for the hour. J. McGettigan determines to make a champion of J. Kalina as she blindly shoves in the wheaties.

Say "Uncle"

Suspense and down-right good fun were the keynotes of this year's Freshman Day. While the greenies shivered in their shoes, seniors showed the rest of the school that they were people to kid around with.

The senior contingent of the marching band provided background music for the mass murder of freshies. Tom Prendergast MC'd the shenanigans while everybody else participated either in flesh or spirit.

Finally, when all corpses were removed from the scene of the crime and the remaining freshmen were accepted as full-blooded Centralites, all returned refreshed to the daily hum of classes and studies.

Unaware of the keen eyes of Father Zolondek E. Bettler and F. Snyder demonstrate their own technique of major-etting.

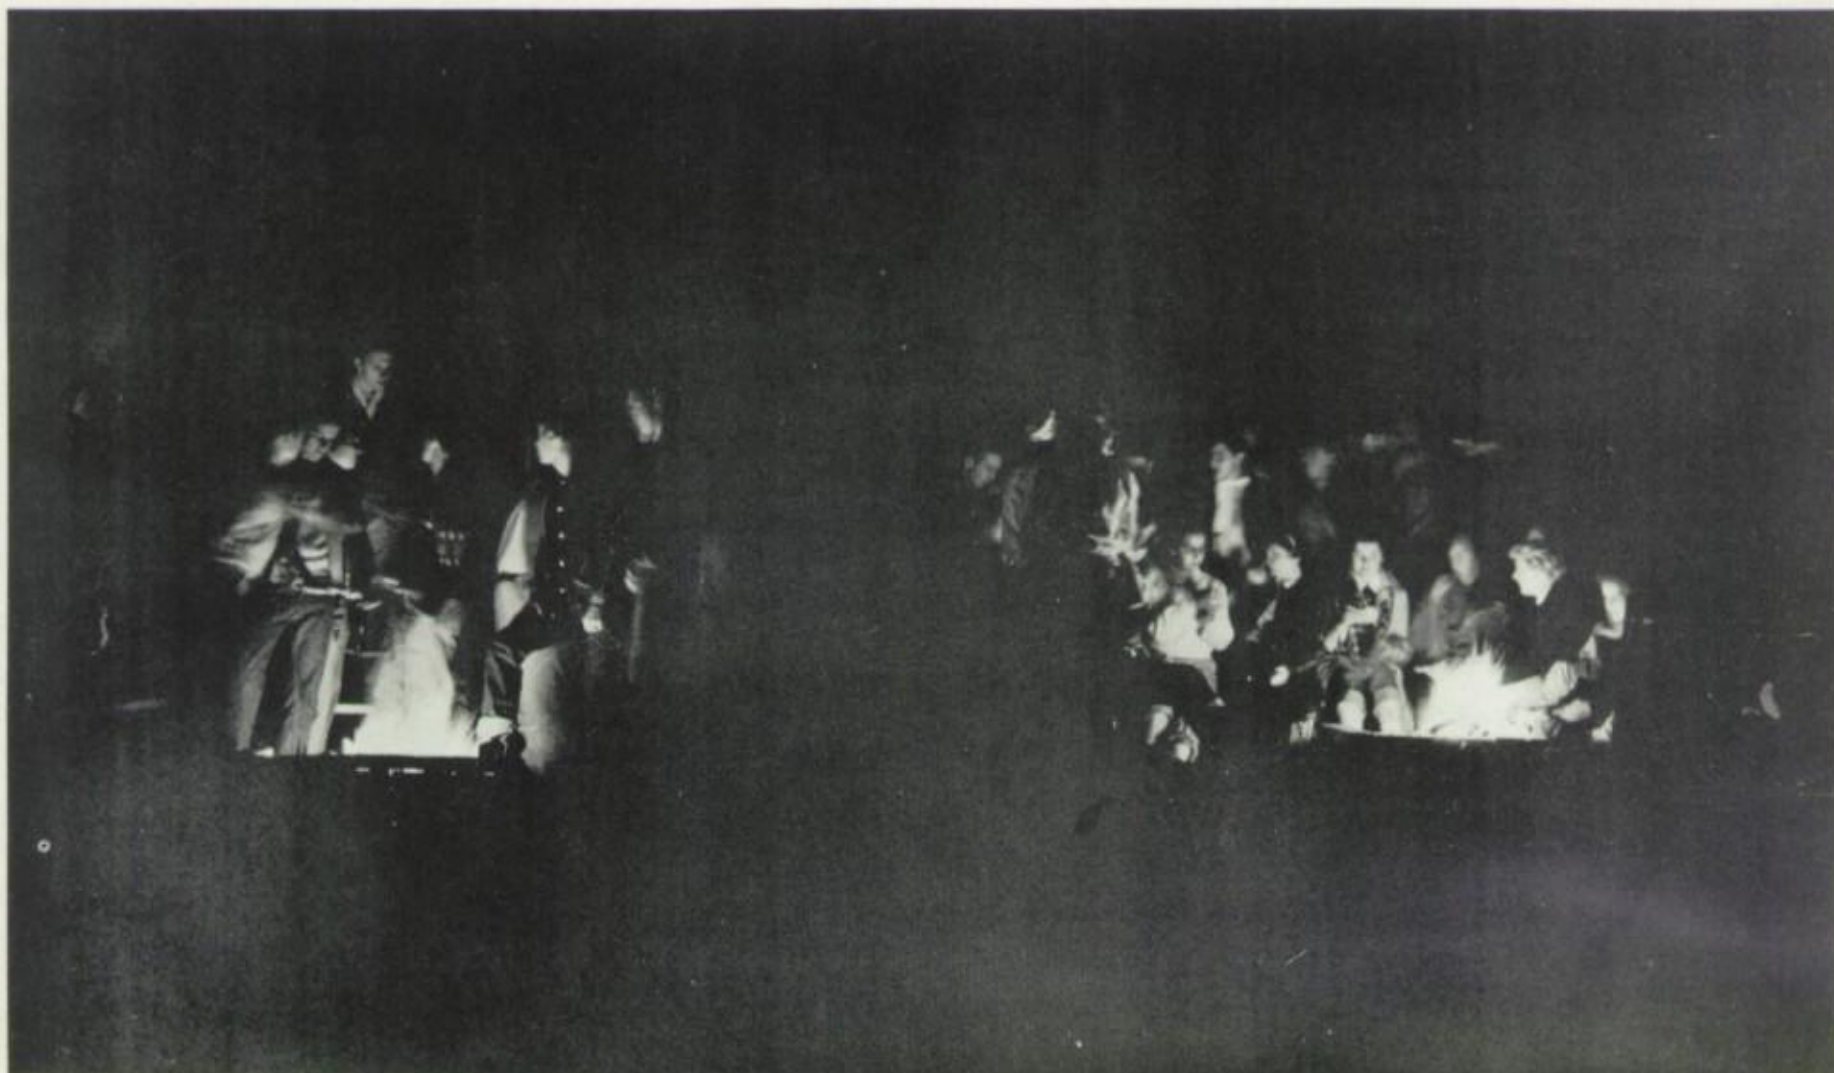

Since sight and touch are of no avail, freshies depend on lucky stars to locate soft cotton balls.

Clad as "Old Mother Hubbard" J. Borst trips his way to the finish line while faculty members have themselves a laugh.

Gathering from these dismayed looks, the band will never forgive Mary Ann Lenich for musical heresy. She rocked when she should have rolled.

Fireside fantasies

A surprised J. Wummer bursts into gales of laughter as her eyes meet those of "Knit-Wit," her door prize.

Bewitched and bewildered by the sudden gaiety of fellow chaperons Father Dickert, Father Forst, and Father Schulte, Miss Illuzzi ganders wonderingly.

Dungaree dolls and guys danced away their night by ducking beneath rafters and shuffling hay.

Enchanted Barn

A sparkling change from rustic farm life greeted over 100 members of the Class of '56 who accepted Nettie Spangler's open-barn invitation. Alfalfa to the senior boys who retaped the fallen decorations at the eleventh hour. Sweet apple cider flowed freely while dancers literally tripped the light fantastic over mikes, loudspeakers and wires. The delightful evening ended with delicious doggies and de-lovely tales of seminary days by the chaperons.

How's the weather up there?

Taking a breather between dances are the committee members: C. Lis, J. Beard, P. Miller, M. Horrigan, L. Lachina, E. Allgoever, S. Bonk, W. Kelly, J. Gyomber, K. Leshner, D. Wambach, T. Prendergast, D. Adams, and R. Salinger.

J. Beard is belle of the ball as long as the cider holds out.

Mademoiselle

"Lovely to Look at" could well have been the theme of this year's combined card party and fashion show, sponsored by the Mother's Club of Central Catholic in the school gymnasium on Friday, November 18. Daytime wear, breathtaking party clothes and frilly formals, modeled by members of the junior and senior classes, highlighted the program which was narrated by Miss Bonnie Borelli.

Pretty as a picture, M. Horrigan wears a torso dress of white taffeta with gold print. The shaped skirt is pleated all around.

Plain and fancy—B. Cianciosi steps smartly into fashion with a green wool jersey country style dress featuring the classic flare skirt.

Amid flowers and burning tapers mothers of Centralites held their annual Candlelight Dinner in the Abraham Lincoln Hotel. Standing at the speakers' table are Mr. W. Abramowicz, Fr. J. Zolondek, Fr. C. Allwein, Fr. R. Lechner, Fr. H. Huesman, Fr. J. Fricker, Fr. S. Bednarik, and Fr. J. Dickert. Seated: Fr. F. Schulte, Mrs. J. Meshinsky, Mrs. P. O'Brien, Mrs. D. McDermott, Miss V. Illuzzi, and Fr. R. Forst.

Ready for a date—R. Ferrara models an eye-catching beige sheath of wool jersey. Her brilliant orange duster is lined to match.

M. Lenich is smartly in style wherever she goes in this charming beige tweed sheath, accentuated by a simple jewelled neck and princess line. White gloves add the finishing touch.

As radiant as the traditional bride, M. Pfrommer poses in a lace over satin floor-length gown with tapered sleeves. On her head rests a tiara of rhinestones.

Music directors M. Nicholas, G. Heere, and J. Deissler know smiling faces and sweet music insure numerous encores.

Young, C. Natoli, H. Wright. Third Row: J. Rick, J. Hudson, J. Auchter, R. Auchter, T. Fabian, D. Soderlund, P. Urbaitis, and D. Terdell.

Dressed in musical finery, Bel-Tones await the cue for a sneak preview. R. Rick, J. Purcell, M. Fosnacht, B. Plank, B. Bukowski, M. Pfrommer, S. Swoboda, J. Ullrich, K. Leshner, M. LaFata, M. Prendergast, B. High, M. Horrigan, J. Murphy, and A. Rauen.

With a mere tip of the finger Father Zolondek can snap a cardboard dream into reality. Proof of Father's ability was the '56 Spring Musicales which he presented on May 16, 17, 18, and 20 in the gymnasium.

K. Leshner, the music room Cinderella, does her wishing on the key-board.

Belles of Our Lady

Once again the "Ave Maria" opened the traditional May ceremonies. Attended by her court of fifteen senior girls, May Queen Mary Pfrommer, presided over the annual crowning of the Blessed Mother in the school gym on Wednesday, May 23.

Members of her court, selected by the three senior sections, wore pastel evening gowns and carried nosegays which they offered at the feet of Our Lady.

The coronation was concluded by a brief sermon and benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament.

May Queen M. Pfrommer crowns Our Lady Queen of Heaven.

Our Lady's court, gleaming in the brilliant sunlight, walk majestically beside the magnolias.

The Last Word

Now that bustling about "The Den" has simmered to a quiet flutter of dust cloths and the lazy shuffle of scrap paper, I find myself indebted to nine underclassmen who helped the Staff of '56 down to the last frantic moment of publication. I want to thank you Without you there would have been no scrapbook, no disc, no art. A few captions and some body copy would have been missing, too, and I'm afraid Centralma would have been much the worse for that. Our best wishes and most precious memories.

When we're gone, don't forget to keep the filing cabinet in order, and get yourselves a new dummy. Buy another photography notebook, sharpen the cutter, and fix the camera. We'd do it for you but Carole Lis went and made herself valedictorian. And you wouldn't mind our celebrating that event, would you?

You'll find publishing your own '57 annual a lot of fun if you'll work consistently, diligently, and together as we did. I think I can say for all of us that some of our happiest hours were spent in yearbook headquarters. It was team work and we loved it.

The very most I can hope for you now is that you'll be just as proud of your book next year as I am proud today.
